Girl Scouts Camp Despite High Winds and Downpours

All winter long, troop after troop of girl scouts weekend in Camp Narrin, but spring is the nicest time of all, with mild weather, wild flowers, and no pesky little mosquitos. Troops 640 and 200 from Lathrup neighborhood took advantage of a recent weekend to enjoy the out-of-doors.

Although high winds rattle and rain, the girls and intermission camps passed, down 200 was up and early to enjoy a breakfast of croissants, grapefruit, sausage and coffee cakes, prepared by experienced cooks. A tall enough to see the top of the great stove. With troop 200 were Linda Owen, Sally Stevenson, Sue V. Van, Carol Beck, Judy Keith, Kate
