

Undergoing Tests

Birmingham Police Sgt. Milton Jones, of 440 Bannville, Birmingham, was re-admitted to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital Monday for further tests in connection with a mild heart attack he suffered last week. A hospital representative said Tuesday that Jones is resting quietly, and that he is permitted to have visitors.

BHS Forms UN Club, Drumstick Ball Slated

The newly organized United Nations club at Birmingham high school recently elected officers.

President of the General assembly is Steve Pew; secretary of the General assembly, Ellen Rossetti; secretary general of the United Nations, Janet McDonald.

Chairmen of the major committees are Mickey Michaels, correspondence; Mary Burkman, parliamentary; Myrna Mozley, finance; Betty Carroll, program; Carol Decker, social.

To raise money for the all-state mock United Nations meeting in Hillsdale next spring, the group was in charge of the concession stand at the variety show last Thursday and Friday nights.

Future activities include the special United Nations assembly in late May, and a banquet at the end of the school year.

Members will correspond regularly with actual foreign delegates to promote greater understanding of current world problems.

CLUB DJFR PRESENTS the annual Drumstick ball next Saturday at the Community House. Tom McDaniel is the general chairman. Working under him are Ted Murray, bank; Art Chandler, decorations; Fred Bleakly, refreshments; Rich Riley, publicity; and Buzz Gorsault, tickets and programs.

Tickets can be purchased from any member of the club.

THE QUESTION of special classes for superior students was the topic of the recent Junior town meeting in which Birmingham students participated.

On the affirmative side were Bob Ford and Ken Hogan, while Helen Cortright and Steve Surridge took the negative. The moderator was James Garrett.

The program, which consisted mostly of questions from the audience, was taped in the Birmingham high school little theater for a future radio broadcast.

The series is heard Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. over WJLR.

Local Youths Earn Cranbrook Memorial Scholarships

CRANBROOK—Three Birmingham boys have earned top scholastic honors at Cranbrook school, announced headmaster Harry D. Hoey.

All three won memorial scholarships, awarded to them on the basis of high academic work and citizenship.

Daniel F. Crowley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Archie Crowley, 1946 Northlawn, is now recipient of the Clay Doss memorial award, maintained by the H. C. Dosses of Detroit in memory of their son who was killed shortly after graduation from Cranbrook in 1948.

Dan is 16 years old and in the 11th grade.

Charles Heavenrich, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heavenrich of 815 Ridgedale, won the William R. Crosscut, J. scholarship, made available by Cranbrook alumni, class of 1942, in memory of one of their classmates.

Charles is a ninth grader and the son of a Cranbrook alumnus. He also has an uncle, Richard Heavenrich, who is an instructor at Cranbrook.

Daniel W. Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliot W. Higgins, 222 Clifton road, earned the Dawson Beatty Brown Memorial scholarship, sponsored by the Basil Browns of Pontiac in memory of their son who graduated from Cranbrook in 1945 and was later killed in World War II.

Daniel is 14 and a member of the ninth grade.

Last Tuesday morning, the Cranbrook chapel was visited by seven members of Moral Re-Armament, who teach the Christian doctrine by songs and plays.

The organization was started about 20 years ago by Frank Buchman, and this group will be in the Detroit area for about two months.

Wednesday noon Cranbrook boys departed for their Thanksgiving holidays. Some of the boys went a long way for their turkey, like those from Iowa, Bill Carmack, his brother over the holiday.
