

Fire Strikes Dynamics Plant

TROY—Fire caused heavy damage to offices of the Dynamic Manufacturing Co. building, 4705 South Main St., in a previous blaze Sunday.

State fire marshal of the Michigan State police said the fire started in the furnace room and the blaze was fed by fuel from a ruptured oil line.

Troy Fire Capt. Wesley Smith said firemen from both Troy sta-

STOCK MARKET PERSONAL TUTORING

BY PROFESSIONAL TRADER, USING TIME AND RESULT-PROVEN TECHNIQUES, THROUGH INTENSIVE INSTRUCTING AND ACTUAL PRACTICES TO MAKE YOU ABLE TO:

- Make money in bad times or good—so easily (faster) on DOWN TRENDS of stocks as on RISING PRICES.
- Buy and sell stocks by yourself like those who make up to 100%-300% return a year.
- Do your own thorough analysis and forecasting, your own timing, your own selecting of stocks.
- Determine real TOPS & BOTTOMS beforehand, and as they occur without waiting for next move to be half over.
- Predict how far up or down a stock will go; where it will meet resistance or help; accumulation or distribution by large groups.
- Protect yourself from losses through strategic placing of STOP-LOSS orders; limit risks with odds always in your favor.
- Buy and sell stocks for various purposes—short-term, intermediate and long-term gains; make most of capital gains.
- Qualify any stock through right BUY or SELL TESTS.

Young Teachers Share Apartment and Work

By JULIE CANDLER

Two young Pembroke school teachers who share an apartment at 1696 Graefield court, Birmingham, compared their present home life with their recent college days when they roomed with other girls.

"You have a lot more freedom than you have in college," they said. "But you have more responsibilities, too."

Like many other young people who work in the metropolitan area, Beth Uhrig and Helen Gach have moved here from other communities and teamed up with other young unmarrieds to share the fun, the housekeeping expenses and the chores.

For Beth and Helen, their present existence is far different from life in a college dormitory, where food and shelter were no problem.

"We especially like to cook," said Beth.

Beth, who teaches kindergarten, and Helen, a first grade instructor, do their weekly grocery marketing together. The bill is paid from the "pot" to which each girl contributes an equal share each payday.

Since "things don't have to be too rigidly organized when it's only two people involved," no set schedule determines when the two girls will cook dinner each day.

"Whoever gets home and gets around to it first cooks the meal," says Helen. "If I cook dinner, then Beth washes the dishes, and vice versa."

Other tasks like painting and decorating, cleaning or sewing are usually handled on the weekends.

The girls are especially proud of the bedroom they painted on a recent weekend. And Beth takes care of the window curtains and dressing table flounce she sewed.

Then there are occasional week-end visits back home, to Romeo for Helen, and to Battle Creek for Beth.

But their real home now is the snug little apartment on Graefield court. And to Beth and Helen, there's no place like home.

Surgery Completed

A Henry Ford hospital representative said early Tuesday afternoon that the Rev. Robert J. Stearns had just come out of surgery. His condition is satisfactory following the operation, the hospital said. Mr. Stearns is minister of Franklin Community church.
