Dr. and Mrs. Earl Weston Entertain Drama Group

Drama chatter filled the air Friday night when 44 thespians were entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Earl E. Weston, Forman drive.

The group is the Westminister Presbyterian church of Detroit, drama guild who had been, that evening, guests of Will-o-way and apprentice theatre where Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner spoke to them on lighting and stage production. Following this, they returned to the Weston home for coffee and dessert.

Dr. Weston surprised and entertained them all with his ham radio hobby when he successfully contacted an Eric Lowe in Port Elizabeth, Union of South Africa. It was midnight here, Lowe said, it was 7:00 a.m. there and he was just getting ready to go to work.

Of particular interest to everyone was Lowe's description of Port Elizabeth as an important automobile assembly center there. He said that many of the automotive parts used of course come from Detroit.

Weston had talked to Lowe about a year ago on his amateur short wave radio and Lowe immediately recognized the doctor.

Mrs. Danziger's mother will probably remain for the Christmas holidays.
