Peace comes only from the environment of peaceful thinking by people who comprise the world. An individual cannot be at peace, a nation cannot be at peace, a world cannot be at peace unless people conduct their words and acts in keeping with the conditions that automatically result in peace.

SECTION SIX

Carolyn Luttrell Feted at Shower

Invitations in the form of reserved seat tickets went out to friends of Carolyn Luttrell, bidding them to a kitchen shower in her honor last Saturday. Hostess was Pat Allen of 611 Elm street, assisted by Carol and Marion Becker.

Carolyn and her fiance, Richard Young, are both seniors at Michigan State university. They plan a Dec. 21 marriage at Christ church, Cranbrook.

Carrying out the football theme at the party, green and white pennants decorated the wall and punch was served from a football shaped bowl. Gifts were placed under white goalposts trimmed with green ribbons and a white mum corsage was presented to the bride-elect. Guests included several of Carolyn's Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sisters from East Lansing.

Crombie Patina Cashmere

One of the rarest, most sumptuous of fibers known, Cashmere comes from mysterious Tibet, nestled high in the Himalayas. The fine hair of the Kashmir goat was prized by the ancient Chinese, who produced sumptuous cashmere rugs and scarves which Marco Polo brought back to the Western World.

The 247-year-old Crombie Mills in Aberdeen, Scotland, masterfully blend these fine hairs with other precious fibers to reinforce its wearing qualities.

The result is our superb Crombie Patina Cashmere coat. World famous for its soft, luxurious character.
