

EARLY MORNING crowds jammed most Birmingham polling places, with long lines forming, like this one at Chesterfield fire station. By 10:15 a.m., over 480 had voted on the precinct's three machines.

Am. Education Week Starts Monday in B'ham

On Monday, Birmingham will kick-off its American Education Week celebration with all schools in the system planning special programs and events to acquaint the public with the role the school plays in the community.

Highlight of the week-long activity will be a huge parade of students, teachers, service groups and affiliated educational organizations. The parade starts at 7:30 p.m. and will go through the center of Birmingham.

Emphasizing the importance of the school teacher in instructing and guiding the youth of America, Birmingham has selected a Teacher of 1956, to represent all teachers in the system. She is Miss Carolyn Wright, Terry school first grade teacher.

A FULL list of events are set for schools. Barnum students will present a play and hold open house on Wednesday. Penbrook's open house is also scheduled for Wednesday with parents invited to attend special assembly meetings will be held throughout the week.

Planning the day's theme, they will also have an open house on Thursday evening at 8 p.m. "Men Only Night" will be a different approach by Baldwin school with the program on Monday. The same night Bloomfield Village will hold their open house at 8 p.m.

SOUTHFIELD HI NOTES

Southfield high's PTSA calls upon mothers to act as their stirring and whet their appetites for the open house Tuesday night. Parents visiting classrooms with their teenage students are invited to take home a treat from the bake sale the PTSA will hold in conjunction with the open house.

Members of the Future Teachers club, Key club and Hi-Y will act as guides and receptionists during the open house from 8 to 10 p.m.

The parade starts at 7:30 p.m. and will go through the center of Birmingham.

Hubbard Discusses Washington Trip With 300 Seniors

Over 300 seniors, prospective members of the Washington group, met last Thursday afternoon in the little theater to hear E. A. Hubbard discuss details of the trip.

Mr. Hubbard, director and organizer of the group, discussed the problems he faces in dealing with so many students and stressed the importance of rules and regulations.

GAA Plans Sale

At GAA open house last week a salesman brought samples of stuffed animals to be dressed in school colors and sold by members. A meeting for this week was scheduled to arrange for the GAA concession at the Turkey day game.

Southfield's driver training classes will soon take to the road. With the arrival of two new cars Monday, students will be practicing theories they have been studying in class.

That paper drive the Southfield junior class staged last Saturday turned out to be such a huge success that two records of an assembly before all of Southfield township had been covered. Some of the newspapers and magazines collected dated back to 1924. The class will profit nearly $300, and are so pleased with results that they are talking about a spring drive.

School elections held at Southfield last week show 557 votes for Eisenhower-Nixon, 223 for Stevenson-Kefauver. Cobo netted 451 votes over Williams' 325.

Radio station WJR will broadcast a taped record of an assembly "Town Meeting of the Air" tomorrow evening. The assembly was recorded at Southfield Oct. 31.
