Marcia Boothe Weds Dr. Lawrence Stool

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to the Smoky mountains and Florida, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Alfred Stool will take up residence at White Lake.

Their marriage was solemnized Saturday evening at Mayflower Congregational church, Detroit, by Rev. Robert D. Dewey of the Congregational church of Birmingham.

THE BRIDE is the former Marcia Elmor Boothe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond William Walmoth of Sandy Lane, Foxcroft, Mr. and Mrs. H. Theodore Stool of Orchard Way, Foxcroft, are parents of the groom.

Members of the immediate families witnessed the rites, after which 150 guests were greeted at a reception in the State suite of the Statler hotel.

For her wedding day, Marcia selected an off-white sheer wool broadcloth sheath designed on empire lines with short sleeves. Accenting the portrait neckline was a large tailored bow of the same material.

Her matching Juliet cap had a short veil sprinkled in rhinestones and completing her ensemble was an envelope bag topped by camellias and stephanotis.

MRS. GEORGE David Armstrong, Jr., of Grosse Pointe was her sister's only attendant. Her pale beige sheer wool empire style sheath featured a taffeta cummerbund and floating back panel. Beige cymbidium orchids were pinned to her purse and hat similar to that of the bride's.

Best man was Jack Hayward of Birmingham and George D. Armstrong, Jr., served as usher.

Mrs. Walmoth's choice for the occasion was a champagne hue broadcloth costume suit trimmed in mink with a hat fashioned of matching material. Green and White cyproedium orchids were combined in her corsage.

THE MOTHER of the groom pinned a corsage of brown and green cyproedium orchids to her beige sheer wool sheath. Mink handkerchiefs and also trimmed her beige hat.

How Do You Ever Read Some Prescriptions?

The hieroglyphics on a prescription may be "Greek" to the public, but to us, they are precise instructions set down in medical Latin—the unchangeable language of the profession. Our knowledge of the language and symbols of Medicine and Pharmacy enable us to read prescriptions perfectly and promptly translate them into healing medicines.
