

Junior Paper Drive Ending Saturday

To raise funds to finance the 1957 J-Hop, Birmingham high school juniors undertook a paper drive.

The project got underway last Saturday. Next Saturday the drive will wind up, when all collected papers and magazines will be loaded into trucks and transported to a Detroit company.

A quota of two carloads per person was set. Heading the drive are Carl Raynolds, general chairman, and Bob Benson, junior class president.

Scribblers' Club Plans to View Educational TV

The home of Nancy Stewart was the scene of the recent meeting of the newly reorganized Scribblers' club of Birmingham high school. Plans were made to attend an educational program shown over channel 56, and the stage production of "The Lark."

Essays, poems, and short stories, written by members were read by Nancy Maxwell, discussion leader.

After the meeting cake was served, honoring the birthday of Sue Ketchum, Nancy Maxwell, and Nancy Stewart.

Friday at the seventh and eighth hour assembly the program started with a group of five songs by the first choir of BHS. Chorus were led by the school's six cheerleaders.

Mr. Lyall Smith, sports writer for a Detroit paper, introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Nick Kerbawy, manager for the Lions. He gave a small salute to each grade represented and mentioned some events of his high school years. Mr. Kerbawy also answered some questions and described a typical practice.

Friday was a doubly busy day for BHS students, with the assembly, the football game and the first dance of the season that night. Music was provided by the Senby and Johnson band. The dance was sponsored by the "B" club, to which most of the male letter-winners of Bloomfield belong.

Saturday some of the members of the Beta chapter of Phi Sigma Tau attended the show "Oklahoma." Their sponsor is Mrs. Joyce Peters, home economics instructor.

The first choir of Bloomfield Hills sang before the Michigan Educators' association conference Wednesday morning. The mixed group was directed by Clarence Luchman, head of vocal music at the school.

Dateline: Derby

By
Les Carter

The first copy of "Derby Dateline" appeared Friday. The feature story, "Eighth Grade Bags Elections," was detailed in the editorial.

It stated that when all officers were eighth graders there was an "uncertain feeling" among most ninth graders and some seventh and eighth graders.

It was suggested that voting for the officers of next year's student council could be done toward the end of the school year, to eliminate uninformed first year voters.

Some more books have come to the library, and the suggested one to read for this week is "Secret Cargo," by Howard Pease.

The Derby boy of the month, as chosen by the newspaper staff, was Mike Miles, who was president nominee opposing Sid Sullivan. Mike has urged everyone to "back up" the new president. Derby girl of the month was Carol King, who writes short stories for entertainment. She is a member of the newspaper staff.

Every Wednesday afternoon there is bowling for girls at the Birmingham bowling alley. The top-scoring girl bowler is Sandy McKennies, who averages 157. Mr. Raymond Knes is the top teacher, bowling a 151 average.

Future Teachers At BHS Map Plans

Providing information, FTA club at Birmingham helps students aspiring to become teachers. The first and third Mondays of the month are meeting days for the group, whose adviser is Miss Charlotte Will.

The four-year old FTA charter was recently sent in for renewal and pins were ordered for 19 new members.

Mrs. Carol Darling, dean of students, discussed the colleges and scholarships available for those entering the teaching profession. November activities of the club include a bake sale, the profits of which will furnish a scholarship for one outstanding senior member, and an observation program in elementary schools.
