Village PTA's Autumn Fair Is October 26

By PEG NICHOLLS

Music from a brightly lighted carousel combined with the patter of ponies hoofs will create a gala circus atmosphere tomorrow evening when the Bloomfield Village PTA holds its fifth Autumn Fair at the Village school.

Weeks of preparation by the faculty members, parents and children will finally culminate into one grand performance when the doors of the school are thrown open and children and parents will visit the "Come One! Come All! and Heigh! Ho! Come To The Fair."

A country store will feature their ski, and test their luck, handmade crafts and novelties, while another booth will have an elaborate display of baked goods. A sugar plum tree will delight and amaze the wee ones. A witches cave will bewitch, bother and bewilder many. A miniature golf course is sure to attract the novice Bobby Joneses, Jesse Eakins as a clown and balloon vendor will lend much to the carnival theme. As an added inducement to come early and stay late, supper will be served in the multi-purpose room by the 5th grade mothers.

Chairman for this year's fair is Mrs. Leland Beers with Mrs. William Heller as her co-chairman. Out Bloomfield Village way tomorrow evening the cry will be "Come One! Come All! and Heigh! Ho! Come To The Fair."
