Bloomfield Village Bertlings' Children Keep Home Fires, Car Burning

The Lee A. Bertling home on Ardmore has been the scene of much excitement and activity of late. Last Saturday the Bertlings entertained at a cocktail party in honor of their son Lee Jr. and his fiancée, Patricia Neman.

Barbara Bertling who has spent the last six weeks visiting in Boston and New York returned home for the party accompanied by Lieut. Harry Zimmer of the U. S. Navy who will be a house-guest of the Bertlings during his stay in Birmingham.

On the 17th of September the Bertlings will drive their daughter Jane back east where she will attend the Mary A. Burnham School in North Hampton.

The Walter Kuckelmanns of north Cranbrook bid adieu to their son Michel who left for the Gilmour Academy in Galesville, Ohio, two weeks early in order to attend football practice.

The Nelson F. Bowes of Covington road are newcomers to the village having moved to their new home the first of July from Ridge-wood, N. J. They have made their home in many cities prior to moving here. New York, Los Angeles and Seattle to name a few. Mr. Bowes is affiliated with the Ford Motor Co. The Bowes are members of the New York Athletic club and the Sales Exec. club. Their son is Richard N. Bowes, a Captain in the USMC. The family all have a deep interest in music and consider it their most favorite hobby.

A parade was held over the Labor Day weekend right here in the village, with the youngsters on Williamsburg the participants. About twenty-five children ranging from two to eight years old dressed in costumes, many riding decorated bikes tramped up and down before a judging committee. There were prizes for the winners and ice cream for all. Awarded prizes were Martha Weaver, Ann Hughes, Diann Neppach, Jimmy Dowdell and Randy Smith.

Mrs. E. D. Longenecker of Glen-garry road is entertaining some thirty members of the committee for Approved schools of the Louise St. Clair chapter of the DAR. They are meeting to plan their activities for the coming year.

Mrs. Barney Bannon, room chairman for the PTA entertained at coffee in her home last Friday morning. Attending were some 20 mothers who will act as "Room Mothers" in the coming school year. Acting as co-hostesses was Mrs. Leland Beers, mother vice president. After introductions were exchanged and refreshments were enjoyed Mrs. Bannon explained the duties of the room mothers. Mrs. Beers assigned the projects to the respective rooms in lieu of the School Fair which will take place at the school on the evening of Oct. 26. The fair, sponsored by the PTA is the only fund raising project of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kostere of Hupp Cross road recently entertained a group of teen agers at a surprise birthday party for their 15-year-old daughter Dale. Ping pong and shuffle board were played preceding dinner and dancing. Among the group attending were Patti Copeland, Nancy Thalacker, Nancy Mahlittner, Sally Cunningham, Bill Johnson, Doug Ward, Bob Rouse, David Underdown, Bill Bond, and Jim Ray.

Another pre-school party was held recently at the Philip Copeland home on Ardmore when Patti Cope and Dale Kostere gave a lawn party for 20 of their school friends. A buffet supper was served in the yard, followed by an evening of dancing.

Boy Scout troop B-15 met last Tuesday evening at the Bloomfield village school from 7:30 until 9. New patrols were formed and plans for an overnight at the D-Bar-A Ranch early in October were discussed. Mr. R. P. Beaubien is scoutmaster.

to attend, as they are living in Bangkok, Thailand, where Mr. O'Rourke is attached to the American Embassy.

SALLEY'S bride's gown was created of white Italian silk pou de soie with a short sleeved Empire bodice of duchess lace appliqued with tiny pearls. Her mantilla of white silk illusion and duchess lace flowed gracefully over the gown's cathedral length train. Eucharist lilies were combined with lilies-of-the-valley in her bouquet.

Gail O'Rourke of Gary, Ind., niece of the groom, was flower girl and the bride's cousin, Robert Hunt of Rochester, served as ring bearer.

MRS. CHARLES Nelson wore a yellow dress for her duties as matron of honor. Maid of honor Gayle Smith, sister of the bride, wore a deep shade of turquoise. Wearing turquoise frocks were the bridesmaids, Jane Ottaway of Grosse Pointe, Kathryn Rand of Deland, Fla., Carla Archbold of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Frank Perkin of Detroit and Mrs. W. Dean Delaney of Peoria, Ill.

All of their gowns were identically designed of chiffon with tucked bodices, rounded necklines, full skirts and satin cummerbunds. Their crowns were fashioned of forget-me-nots, dyed to match their dresses and completing their costumes were bouquets of tiny yellow rosebuds.

A turquoise hat accented Mrs. Smith's gown of candlelight chiffon brocaded in silver with a turquoise chiffon neck panel.

For traveling to Cape Cod and New York with her husband, Sally changed to a cocoa brown silk shantung suit with matching accessories.

Their residence will be in East Lansing.
