MRS. GEORGE F. BEECH, JR.

Designs Wedding Gown And Attendants' Frocks

Paula Jean McDonald and her attendants ascended the aisle of the First Presbyterian church Saturday in gowns she had designed for her marriage to George Frederick Beech, Jr.

The bride's gown of white peau de soie was fashioned with a high square neckline which dipped to a V in the back. The neckline and lowered waistline was outlined in point de Lyon lace. Long sleeves came to points over the hands and graceful folds of the bouffant skirt fell into a chapel train. Her veil was held by a headpiece of the same lace. She carried white orchids and Stephanotis.

The Rev. W. Glen Harris read the double ring rites at 4:30 p.m. Paula's parents are the Paul E. McDonalds of Lake Park and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Beech of Westmoreland, both of Birmingham.

TEAL blue peau de soie frocks of the attendants were patterned after the bride's. Bouffant skirts extended from the lowered waistlines and two streamers fell from the V-point of the back neckline to the hem. They had three-quarter length push up sleeves and matching headbands. They carried baskets of gold and yellow mums.

Susan McDonald was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Meridelle Knights, Carole Cohen and Valerie Vaughan.

Loretta Beech, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid in an identical frock except for short sleeves.

Little flower girl Joy Kelley wore organza over tulle in teal blue with a very full short skirt sash and full bow to which was pinned mums. She also carried a basket of mums.

GEORGE's brother, William, served as his best man. Other men in the wedding party were Stephen Stubbs, Ned Bearden, Robert Mahr and Cameron Dorsey, bride's cousin.

Mrs. McDonald chose an ice blue peau de soie sheath with an alencon lace top and Mrs. Beech wore a taffeta dress in toast color.
After a garden reception at the home of the bride's parents the couple left for Florida. They will be back home Sept. 18, only to leave for East Lansing and return to school.
