

Hendersons Return Home From Month in Ontario

Mrs. C. Robert Henderson of Old Mill road is home again after more than a month at her folks' summer home in Sauble Beach, Georgian Bay, Ontario. Mr. Henderson joined his wife and daughters, Debbi and Jenni, for a two weeks vacation on week-ends.

The weather, says Mrs. Henderson, was close to ideal. The children never missed a day in the water and their parents seldom missed a daily golf game.

The related and lazy life came to an abrupt ending early Tuesday morning when Debbi and Jenni reported for school at Wing Lake.

Leaving home with bag and baggage is Kay Fogarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fogarty, Wedge road, for Michigan State University Sunday. Starting her freshman year Kay will reside in Snyder Hall.

This summer Kay was busy working on station WTVZ-TV, channel 56, the educational channel, where she obtained an abundance of experience in the radio and TV field. Putting this experience to good use, she will major in speech, radio and TV.

Today Kay is entertaining a few friends at the Edgewood Country club at a luncheon. The occasion is a "last fling" before the girls, high school acquaintances, leave in opposite directions for different colleges.

Marty Bay Returns Home From 7 Weeks in Hollywood

Gilbert Lake's Marty left for Hollywood for a short stay this summer and loved the plush semi-tropical living so well, she wouldn't come back until the school bells clanged.

Marty, the Charles Bays' teenager, spent almost seven weeks on the coast.

The studio gates and policemen, a formidable barrier to the tourist seeking a peek at picture making, was no hindrance to Marty; her "in" was Uncle Carlon Walker, vice president in charge of advertising at the Walt Disney studio. Marty met the Mickey Mouse studio cast, saw them televising their show (the muppet set sees the kiosk here late in the afternoon).

Her big thrill was the art department, watching the painstaking work of the artists inking the cartoons. Other fun spots were the Greek Theatre, the Farmers Market and Disneyland. Marty lives on Quanton road.

Saturday Ben Hardesty's brother, Vernon Lee, was married at Farmington Methodist church. His bride was petite blond Kathy Chase from Tacoma, Wash. Some 50 guests gathered in the Hardesty home that faces Gilbert Lake to toast the newlyweds.

Col. Walter Ott is back in his Lahser road home, but not for long. The colonel, who just returned from Europe where he was a guest of the Swedish government, leaves for Milwaukee this weekend for a conference. Col Ott will then prepare for his departure around Oct. 1 for a year-and-a-half stay in Germany.

Henry Reysa Goldfrev is home from the service. Henry, son of Mrs. Henry Reysa, served 17 months in Germany.

The fall snap in the air stirs the blood of the hunter, and over at the Edward Spicers on Reduth court, they are getting ready. Edward and Margaret Spicer, with Peggie Lynn and young Ed have been practicing a cherry at a friends' home over in Franklin. They plan to do their hunting with bow and arrow up around Mio when the season opens in October.

School Buildings Trouble S'fid

The Southfield School Board members were concerned with the proposed route of the Southfield expressway which will pass near the location of some of their school sites.

James H. Hickey, city planner, presented a state aerial map of the route at Monday's meeting so that they may consider future developments.

Report on the fire insurance coverage for the recently burned Kinley elementary school had full protection for the damaged building. Superintendent of Schools Glenn Schoenals, stated that the insurance company would reimburse the school system $28,400.

AN ADDITIONAL sum of $5,400 will be received for the new school furniture stored in the McKelzie building and also damaged during the fire.

The board heard a report from Dr. Herman Dunscheit, of the Royal Oak Public schools, who was speaking as a private citizen in regard to the Child Guidance Clinic.

SCHOENALS also reported on the difficulty of getting proper heating facilities at the new E. J. Lederle school and the John Grace school. The Grace school had no E. J. Lederle school and the John Grace school which will delay the opening several more days until next Monday.
