Mrs. David Austin Howell, Jr., is the former Nancy Jane Alberda. Her marriage Saturday afternoon to the son of the David A. Howells of Lakeside Drive, Birmingham, was solemnized in Grand Rapids.

David Howell Claims Bride in Grand Rapids

In a 2 p.m. ceremony Saturday at East Congregational church in Grand Rapids, Nancy Jane Alberda and David Austin Howell, Jr., exchanged wedding vows before Dr. Joseph Q. Mayne.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice S. Alberda of Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. David A. Howell of Lakeside drive, Birmingham, are parents of the groom.

AFTER a reception in the church dining room, Nancy and David left on a trip to the Smoky mountains, Tennessee. They will make their home in Clawson.

For her wedding day, the bride selected a candlelight taffeta gown with an empire bodice accented by a bow, re-embroidered alenon lace outlining the neckline, long lace sleeves and gored skirt sweeping into a chapel train.

Seed pearls trimmed the alenon lace profile half-hat securing her fingertip length veil of silk illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations and red roses.

PRECEDING the bride down the aisle were her honor attendant, Ann Clemens of Grand Rapids, and her bridesmaids, Sharon Becker of Battle Creek, Maureen Jones of Three Rivers, Susan Howell of Birmingham, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Maurice Alberda, Jr., of Reading.

Pink and white feathered carnations were combined in the bridesmaids' bouquets and pink roses and white carnations made up the bouquet of the honor maid.

They wore velvet headpieces encircled with maline to match their waltz length dresses of ice blue taffeta. Fashioned on princess lines with scooped necklines and brief sleeves, the frocks featured full skirts detailed with a cuffed motif accented by a back bow.

MRS. ALBERDA was groomed in a wedgewood blue taffeta sheath with matching jacket and accessories and a corsage of garnet roses. The groom's mother pinned pale pink roses to the neckline of her pastel printed silk dress.

Charles S. Garrish, Jr., of Centerville, was best man and ushers were Robert Wathen of Milford, James Berghorst of Cadillac, P. Thompson Alberda of Grand Rapids, cousin of the bride, and the bride's brother, Maurice S. Alberda, Jr.
