

Dance Classes Scheduled By Mrs. Brown

Mrs. Basil E. Brown follows the pattern of 14 years in establishing dance classes for pre-teens and teens at Birmingham Community House.

On Oct. 2 at 4 p.m. the seventh grade class will meet for the first time. It is sponsored by Mrs. Arthur Bugbee, Mrs. R. P. Hubbard, Mrs. Charles Kinnison, Mrs. Carl Reynolds, Mrs. Henry Lester and Mrs. M. J. Anderson.

Organizers for the sixth grade class which will gather at 4 p.m. Oct. 9 are Mrs. W. M. Bullock, Mrs. Thomas Fleming, Mrs. Donald Perry, Mrs. Ford Kennedy, Mrs. George Marin and Mrs. Hugh Bailey.

THE EIGHTH grade will again have evening classes, beginning 7:30 p.m. Oct. 25, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Thomas Ward, Mrs. J. C. Briggs, Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. M. B. Lucas.

Planned for this group is a dinner-dance in February and a dance concluding their series May 10 at Orchard Lake country club.

Assistants to Mrs. Brown for the next two years who are leaving for college and those beginning this season were entertained at a luncheon Wednesday at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Leaving for Bennington, Vt., is Judy Collins; Western college for women in Ohio, Betty Malligan; Marygrove, Denise Gilmet; and Michigan State, Gail McKinley.

SENIOR assistant will be Paula Struck and others are Barbara Abbott, Sue McCombe and Janie Adams, all former dancing pupils.

Mrs. Brown left Sunday for two weeks in New York City where she will take a refresher course to review the dance picture for the coming year.

Hi-Fidelity Sounds Better in a Carpeted Room . . .

More and more people are discovering that carpet is a "hi-fi" fan's best friend. The best and most expensive set of hi-fi equipment will sound poor if it is placed in a room that is improperly sound conditioned. Many of the pure tones are lost to the listener as they wind up bouncing off the hard floors and echoing around the room. Too much bounce-back causes distortion. Covering the floors with carpeting is an ideal way of checking this defect in a room.

And an ideal way of maintaining the beauty of that carpet is the yearly professional cleaning at the Crescent Carpet Cleaning Co., to remove the accumulation of sharp-edge dirt which creeps into the base of carpet tufts. This soil actually cuts fibers and shortens carpet life as much as 50%.

To find out how easy and inexpensive professional carpet cleaning is, call LI 7-2922.

MRS. WILLIAM J. CONLIN II

Ellen Ann Adams Wed at St. Hugo's

The marriage of Ellen Ann Adams and William James Conlin II was solemnized Saturday at noon in St. Hugo-of-the-Hills church by Rev. Father Francis T. Stack. Three hundred guests witnessed the rites and were greeted at a breakfast reception at Bloomfield Hills country club.

The bride is the daughter of James R. Adams of Rathmurn road, Bloomfield Hills, and the late Mrs. Adams. William is the son of Mrs. Edward F. Conlin of Ann Arbor and the late Mr. Conlin.

AFTER traveling to New York and Bermuda, the newlyweds will make their home in Ann Arbor.

For her wedding, Ellen carried her mother's first Communion prayer book adorned with white rhinoceros orchids. Her Kimmie gown of ivory peau-de-soie was appliqued with white alençon lace at the portrait neckline of the long sleeved bodice. Scattered over the bodice and skirt were tiny ruyettes of alençon lace re-embroidered with sequins and pearls. A headpiece of pearls and sequins secured her fingertip length veil of silk filigree.

Champagne summer satin was fashioned into ballerina length gown for the bride's attendants. Bands of faille in a deeper shade accented the bodices and panels of the same material were featured in the skirts. Fuji chrysanthemums in a champagne tone were used for the bouquets.

THE HONOR attendant was Mrs. Robert Joseph Heckenkamp of Birmingham and bridesmaids were Patricia Hogan, Mimi Cumiskey, Sheila McGinnis and Mrs. Charles E. Drake of Birmingham and Mrs. Paul K. Geizer of Milwaukee, Wis. Mrs. Heckenkamp's daughter, Linda Jean, wore a white organza over champagne silk frock to be her aunt's flower girl. The bride's nephew, Charles Travis Adams, Jr., served as ring bearer.

MRS. DAVID W. BIRD

Havana to Be Home Of David W. Birds

Gowned in a silk peau-de-soie creation adorned with an heirloom pin of seed pearls worn by her mother, maternal grandmother and great grandmother for their weddings, Mary Leslie Guion Hewitt exchanged wedding vows Saturday with David Weddell Bird.

The double ring rites were solemnized at 4:30 p.m. in Trinity Episcopal church, Elizabeth, N. J., the same church where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cooper Hewitt, were married. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred George Bird of Hanna street, Birmingham, are parents of the groom.

EIGHT attendants preceded the bride down the aisle. The honor matron and flower girl were gowned in apricot taffeta and the maids wore fall shades of beige, cocoa and brown taffeta, two in each color. They carried daisy chrysanthemums. Croton foliage, bitterweed and wheat and their headpieces were of the same colors.

Mary's gown was a period design trimmed with rose points and duchess lace and fashioned with a full skirt and cathedral train. Her veil, of the same lace, has been in her father's family for many years and her mother and paternal grandmother wore it at their weddings. White Eucharist lilies, stephanotis and yellow roses were combined in her bouquet.

MRS. HEWITT selected a feathered hat in a rose apricot shade to match the trim on her greige

League Plans Busy Schedule

Last week's meeting of the Birmingham League of Women Voters was in keeping with political things, a debate between the Democratic and Republican state chairmen.

After starting the year with this program of decided current interest, the League faces many busy days ahead.

On November 22, Dr. Alfred Kelly of Wayne State university will be guest speaker at a public dinner meeting at Devon Gables sponsored by the League of Women Voters. His topic, "A Historical Approach to Individual Liberties—USA," has been requested by the League as a result of their study in the field of individual liberties and their desire to make a speaker noted in this field available to the people in the Birmingham area.

Even more imminent is the League's annual finance drive which began Sept. 19 and will continue through the 26th. Under the direction of finance chairman Mrs. John Ericson, approximately 60 members of the League will go to the public to raise a quota of $2500 to support the work of the League during the coming year. Members of the League work completely on a volunteer basis and member and non-member contributions are solicited for the program of the League.

satin gown. The groom's mother wore a cocoa brown embroidered taffeta sheath with a jacket and brooch velvet hat.

Mrs. Charles A. George of Elizabeth, the bride's grandmother, who received with the wedding party, was gowned in aqua taffeta and lace with an aqua velvet hat.

Mrs. Robert Harmon Westerfield of New York was matron of honor, Susan Day served as flower girl and Sandra Sayen was a junior bridesmaid. The bride had been a flower girl for the wedding of Susan's and Sandra's parents.

BRIDESMAIDS were Ann Kirkland, Helen W. Buchanan and Mrs. Alan T. Pearce of Elizabeth, Mrs. James M. McGregor of New York and Mrs. James K. Nelson of Columbus, Ohio.

William L. Bird of Birmingham was his brother's best man. Ushers were John A. Bird of Royal Oak, Edward C. Hewitt, Jr., Alan T. Pearce and Henry B. Clark, Jr., of Elizabeth, Tom E. Paro of New York and John E. Hardy of Birmingham.

After a reception at the Elizabeth Town and Country club, the newlywed couple left for a honeymoon trip to Nassau. They will make their home in Havana, Cuba, where the groom is with the international division of Ford Motor Co.
