Walnut Hill Residents Gather For Festive Potluck Dinner

Cocktails at the home of the James Jones of Walnut Hill drive started off an evening of fun recently for the 30 residents living on Walnut Hill.

Each year for the past few years, the group has gathered for a co-operative dinner. This year the dinner was planned around steak and lobster, which was flown in from Maine.

Tyrus Homewood of Walnut Hill and Bill Johnson of Sheppardsham have just returned from a nine-day "hush trip" at Missinagi provincial Forest, Canada. It was nine glorious days of fishing, fishing and more fishing.

One of the biggest moments in a fella's life came for Richard Hall, 7, of Walnut Hill when he boarded a plane at Clarence, Mo., for home. It was a thrilling ride for Richard and his dad, who accompanied him on the trip. The previous month Richard spent with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hall in Clarence.

Delta Zeta sorority members, Oakland group, met at the home of Mrs. Marc Hagerman of Butternut Hill, Tuesday evening. It was a get-acquainted meeting, held four times a year.

Among games played, was a "White Elephant" game in which each person brought a white elephant gift. Refreshments were served the 30 attending.

Stevens College alumni held its first fall meeting, Sept. 18, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Brown, Jr., of Norfolk in Birmingham. Mrs. Harold Hall and Mrs. Reardon of Hickory Heights attended the evening of cards and refreshments.

Among the students filing through the gates this week at Central College at Mt. Pleasant, is Becky Filkins of Chestnut Hill drive. She is there on a scholarship and is majoring in elementary education.

Mrs. Tom Richey of Butternut Hill entertained a group of Pine Hill residents at a desert-brunch. The group gathers each month. Those attending were Mrs. Clyde

Newcomers Hear Child Guidance Clinic Director

Mrs. Olive Thomas, head of the Child Guidance Clinic in Birmingham, expressed the hope that child as a preventive force and aid guidance clinic will someday become as readily acceptable as a psychiatrist, a psychologist, a social worker are available at the clinic to deal with children first meeting of the fall season, in the Community House. She stressed the clinic's position as a preventive force and aid guidance clinic will someday become as readily acceptable as a FINAL PLANS for the tea are being discussed by Mrs. Howard T. Keating, Sr. (right), hostess, and Mrs. John C. Moons, who has charge of the floral decorations.

Mrs. Keating Hostesses Tea To Benefit Building Fund

Mrs. Howard T. Keating, Sr., will open her home at 31111 Lahser road to The Infant of Prague Guild for a tea from 2 to 6 p.m., Oct. 9.

The tea will represent the initial donation to the building fund for the Monastery of the Blessed Sacrament, located on Oakland avenue in Detroit, conducted by the Cloistered Dominican Nuns.

The continuation of this Monastery was possible for the past 50 years through the generous sacrificing donations of unnumbered benefactors from all the walks of life. Increasing population and industrialization of the area has diminished almost entirely the privacy and solitude required by their rule, forcing them to find other headquarters. Invitations have been mailed to 3000 women living in the Birmingham and Detroit area.

Mrs. Keating has asked Mrs. John C. Moons of Bellevue trail, Berkshires, to have charge of the table appointments. Birmingham women assisting with the pouring will include Mrs. James Richey, Mrs. Lou Conroy, Mrs. Judge Bearden, Mrs. Kenneth Dickinson, Mrs. Don Ahrens, Mrs. Bernard Goode and Mrs. J. Clarence Gray.
