

MRS. CRAIG BANNING WILSON

Maids Wear Pink Organdy For Wilson-McLeod Rites

Craig Banning Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Wilson, of Franklin road, Bloomfield township, had his father as his best man when he claimed Janet Edith McLeod as his bride in an afternoon ceremony August 25.

Rev. Lewis E. Bender solemnized the double-ring rites in Erin Presbyterian church, Roseville, in the presence of 200 guests.

THE BRIDE, daughter of the Malcolm McLeods of Roseville, chose a wedding gown fashioned of white imported Swiss hand-embroidered eyelet organdy over taffeta and tulle. It was styled with short sleeves, bateau neckline, long torso bodice and bouffant length skirt.

A pearl crown secured her shoulder-length veil of illusion and she carried an arrangement of white fuchsia mums.

Maid of honor Margaret McLeod of Roseville wore a deep pink organdy over taffeta waist-length tulle with a wide sash terminating in a bustle bow. A daisy trimmed up and a bouquet of white daisy mums and light pink carnations completed her costume.

THE BRIDESMAIDS and flower girl were dressed in identically styled costumes in a light pink shade and dark pink carnations were combined with the white daisy mums for their bouquets.

A niece of the bride, Lynnette McLeod of Roseville, was flower girl. Serving as bridesmaids were Karen McLeod of Roseville, Catherine Wilson of Birmingham and Kathleen McLeod of Algonac.

Guests were seated by Roger Ayke and Ken Barlow of Detroit and Calvin Leavy of Flint.

Mrs. McLeod was crowned in beige lace over taffeta with brown and rose accessories when she greeted guests at a reception in the church parlors.

A COFFEE colored taffeta dress with pink and brown accessories was the choice of the groom's mother. Their corsages were made

Many New Residents Move Into Area During Summer

In the last few months many new residents have moved into the North Adams area.

In the Hickory Heights subdivision, the Donald Brunkes, formerly of Ferndale, are just getting settled in their new home on Meadowlane drive. They have a little daughter, Lynn, 19 months.

Mr. Brunke, affiliated with the J. L. Hudson Co., belongs to the Masons and is an ardent fisherman. Mrs. Brunke was formerly with Hudsons as an interior decorator.

Another newcomer to Meadowlane drive are the Maurice Dodges, formerly of Elizabeth Lake, near Pontiac. Mr. Dodge is an accountant with Commercial Carriers and enjoys golf. The Dodge children are Carol, 11, Marty, 8, Mary Ann, 6, Julie, 4, and baby David, 5 months.

The Russell Fishers are enjoying their new home on Burnley drive. Their move was from Detroit. They have a daughter, Carolyn, 5 months. Mr. Fisher is a sales representative with Berry Steel Door Corp., Birmingham, and is a member of Chi Psi. Mrs. Fisher is interested in the PEO chapter in Birmingham.

Another new family on Burnley drive are the Lloyd Denisons from Needham, Mass. They have two children, Susannah, 5, and Chuck, 3. Mr. Denison is a district manager with Yarnall-Waring Co., Detroit. Golf is his favorite sport.

The William Hayes moved into their new home on Tulamore drive last month, coming from Detroit. Mr. Hayes is a sales representative with Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Co., Detroit. They belong to the Lansing and Flint Country Clubs. Sewing is Mrs. Hayes' hobby.

On Orchard Hill drive, the Edwin Karpiks are busy putting in a new lawn. Their move was from Southfield township. Mr. Karpik is affiliated with Denham & Co., an industrial advertising agency.

In Detroit. He belongs to the American Society of Tool Engineers and is a Sigma Delta Chi. They have two children, Ann, 6 and Don, 3, and are expecting an "addition" to the family in September.

Ann celebrated her sixth birthday, Aug. 14, with eight little friends from Hickory Heights.

Newcomers to Greentree road, Eastover Farms are the Harry Richers and their four children, David, Donna, Nancy, Bill. Mr. Richer is industrial department manager of the Board of Commerce in Detroit. Mrs. Richer is a secretary at Ford Motor. The family's hobby will be landscaping for the next couple of months.

In Thornwood the David Brattons of Upton road are busy in their new home. Mr. Bratton is a project engineer with Chevrolet Motor. They have three children, Jean, Hank and Lisa.

The John Bodettes and sons, John and Charles, of Lanerigan drive have just returned from a two weeks trip east. The first week was spent with Mrs. Bodette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Bobell of Creek Locks, N. Y. The children stayed on for another week, while Mrs. Bodette joined her husband in Boston, Mass. where they attended the annual convention of the florist telegraph delivery association.

Randy White, nephew of the George G. Briens of Hickory grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Widenmann of Crystal Lake. daughters of the George Briens of Hickory Heights drive left last week for the fall semester at the University of Michigan.

Dress Right ... You Can't Afford Not To!

THE importance of the above seven words is apparent to every man—or should be. But, actually, how many men do dress right for daytime or evening occasions?

Tomorrow, before leaving home for the office or some special sales appointment, look in the mirror and ask yourself this question—Am I correctly dressed today? Does my tie complement my suit? Is my over-all color and pattern idea in good taste?

If you are in doubt what to wear ask your wife, or better still, come to Youngs of Birmingham and get the advice of a competent sales person. The reasons for asking either your wife or an experienced sales person are these:

1. Women know what to wear. They are always dressed correctly for every occasion.
2. The salesmen at Youngs have years of training in color coordination and styling. This training gives them the know-how to help you dress right, just as your training has helped you in your particular field.

Youngs have made it their goal to give the men of our community the styles of today plus quality merchandise for every occasion.
