We are proud to introduce this new concept in sportcoat comfort, the all-wool De J. Anderson-Cricketeer sportcoat that weighs little more than half the 32-ounce weight of a typical fine-Scotland. Here's a truly elegant sportcoat you'll enjoy wearing all year around.

It's the ideal coat for travel, too, because it packs so compactly, weighs so little, and hangs out perfectly as only an all-wool garment can.

Luxuriously soft to touch and beautifully styled, the supreme quality woolen is further testimony to the traditional skill of D. & J. Anderson of Scotland. It has been carefully tailored for us by Cricketeer in the natural manner.

We invite you to come in today to try on this new kind of sportcoat that's so comfortable it almost seems to float on your shoulders. Our selection includes fashionable stripes, checks, and plaids in a variety of colors.

MRS. GEORGE E. SHARPLES

Sharples-Kelly Vows Read in Ohio Church

Jacqueline Kelly became the bride of George Edward Sharples at the First church in Oberlin, Oberlin, Ohio. The March ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph F. King before an altar banked with greenery, palms and ferns interspersed with seven branch candelabra and bouquets of white stock.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Kelly of Worthington, Ohio. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Sharples of East Wayne, Indiana, formerly of Birmingham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style gown of white tulle. Her fingertip veil of English illusion was caught to a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered with eucharist lilies.

MARtha Sharples, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow daffodils.

Darrel Lee Mansell of New Haven, Conn., served as best man. Ushers were Donald Jones of Royal Oak, Christopher Morgan of Oberlin, Ohio and Joseph V. Kelly of Worthington, Ohio, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Kelly chose for her daughter's wedding a powder blue ensemble with a powder blue hat. Mrs. Sharples wore a taupe colored silk suit with a taupe colored hat. Their corsages were of yellow sweetheart roses.

THE BRIDE is a graduate of Worthington high school and Oberlin college. She is a teacher at the Anderson school in the South Euclid-Lyndhurst, Ohio system.

Mr. Sharples is a graduate of the Birmingham high school and Oberlin college. He is employed

Lebow designs are responsible for most of the new fashion in the clothes you wear today.

Lebow's fidelity to the tradition of complete hand-tailoring is responsible for the superfine suits, jackets and slacks turned out year after year.

It is this combination of the new and the old that is represented by the Lebow label.

It says much about the wearer as well. It says "You could spend more . . . but can't buy finer."
