Nine students are looking forward to a very exciting Easter vacation. Miss Hammond, Spanish teacher, is taking Mary Laurencio, Linda Havelin, Daphne Dalrymple, Barbara Troy, Marie Sandusky, Bob Heath, Bob Knigton, Michael Goodman, and Iris Dalrymple to Mexico for ten days. The students and Miss Hammond will leave from Windsor airport tomorrow. They expect to arrive in Mexico City at 6 a.m. Saturday. Some of the sights and places they expect to visit are the University of Mexico, a bull fight, Chapultepec park, the Pyramids, El Museo Nacional, the market place, the floating gardens of Xochimilco, Shrine of Guadalupe, Acapulco, Taxco, and a Mexican high school. They will return April 29.

It was quite a laugh the other day in speech class. Since there is no recording room for students, they are put into a small janitor's room next door to the speech room. The other day, Ron Pruden and a group of students were recording a radio script, and Ron leaned against a large sink in the janitor's room. Then, all of a sudden, the tap caught on his pocket, and the water came gushing out. There was a large howl from Don, and everyone began to laugh. The skit had to be recorded and Ron had to dry out his pants!

V.C.Y. (Voice of Christian Youth) celebrated its fourth year of activity at Southfield last week. At the birthday party, everyone received a piece of delicious cake, and special music was provided.

The Debate club attended the metropolitan debate banquet at Dominican high school last Thursday. They received their certificates, and heard four men and women of industry give a symposium on "What debating has done for me." The afternoon was very enjoyable, and students are looking forward to the beginning of fall debate season.

It was very hilarious at the performance that the cast of "Love is Eternal" gave at Southfield No. 10 school last week to the junior

Health Fair Poster Contest Judges Named

Merritt D. Hill, general chairman of Southern Oakland county's first community-wide Health Fair to be held May 23, 24 and 25 at Northland Center, this week announced the judges who will select winners in the slogan-poster contest now in progress in 49 schools throughout the county.

Among them are L. E. Birger, manager advertising display, Ford Motor Company, Tractor and Implement Division; Kenneth Isaacs, design department head, Cranbrook Art Academy; and W. H. Stone, vice president, Melhrum and Fawcett, Birmingham.

The contest closes April 19. The contestants are vying for U. S. savings bond prizes.

The contest is sponsored for 28 community service organizations, by the Southern Oakland United Community services. Each of these agencies will have an exhibit at the Center during the fair.

The First Iridescent MOHAIR & WOOL Tropical Suit

London's Savile Row has fathered many "firsts" in men's clothing. But none more notable than this mohair and wool tropical!

It's iridescent — with a luxurious subdued lustre that puts it far above the usual tropical in coloring. It has a crispness and resilience that places it just as high above most tropics in quality, too! As for the tailoring — it's simply superb.
