Lathrup Scout Troop Has First Camp-Out

Camp Nairn was the scene of a weekend troop-camp last weekend when Lathrup Girl Scout troop No. 795 left for the lodge after school on Friday and returned home Sunday evening. Fifteen 11 and 12-year-old girls attended the camp and were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Karl Pearson and Mrs. John Jevitt. Mrs. Wayne Dickerson was licensed camp crafter.

None of the girls had been in a campout before and they gained some first hand knowledge of kerosene lanterns, how to fill and clean them and how to trim their wicks. They learned how to get water from a pump and made a sunken cache serve as an icebox. The youngsters did all of their own cooking and kapers (chores).

Lathrup Women Host Joint Party

LATHRUP—The board members of Lathrup Woman's Club will host club members and guests at a smorgasbord luncheon and card party at 12:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 24 at the House in the Woods. It will be the annual Building Fund party with bake sale and treasure chest.

Proceeds from the party go into the club's building fund. All club members will be called upon for donations of food for the luncheon and bake sale or for contributions to the treasure chest or directly to the building fund.

Chairman of the luncheon is Mrs. James Clarke. Mrs. Walter Mathel and Mrs. Lynn Hobbs are in charge of the bake sale. Mrs. Robert Vint Norma Giordano, Sally Haener, Jo-Anne Jevitt, Linda Kassak, Chris Lakota, Carol McLean, Gail and Kathy Osborne, Marcus Phillips, Nancy Pearson, Chris Strohm, Carol Tucker, Ann Tuvman and senior scout Patty Cattell.

Saturday night the group gathered around a large campfire and sang songs and bade farewell to Mrs. William Hayes, Lathrup street secretary for the league.

She took time out from her buying to tour some of the city and saw "Happy Hunting" with Ethel Herman.

Jane Purdy Sings Joint Concert at Art Institute

Jane Purdy, daughter of the Fred B. Purdy, 27220 Lathrup boulevard, gave a joint concert with John Swift of Detroit at the Detroit Art Institute lecture hall Friday, April 12. The concert was sung in three parts, Jane singing the first, John singing the second, and both singing in unison in the last.

Among Jane's selections for the first part were two numbers from the flute obligato "Les Heures Gentile Lark" and the "Vengeance Aria" from Mozart's opera.

In the third group, Jane and John sang opera and light opera arrangements. One was a scene from

"Rigoletto" by Verdi and others from light opera, were "One Kiss" from "The New Moon" and "Will You Remember" from Maytime. Jane, a 1955 graduate of Southfield high school, is presently studying voice under Aurealia Peralta of Detroit. She plans to study the French and Italian languages.
