Newly Wed J. C. Hampsons To Reside in Birmingham

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hampson, Jr., are honeymooning in Miami, Fla., following their March 22 marriage at Christ Church Cranbrook. Upon returning, they will take up residence in their new home on Washington boulevard in Birmingham.

The bride is the former Elaine Goodwillie, daughter of Mrs. Maise Goodwillie of Detroit. The John C. Hampsons of Cranbrook road, Bloomfield Village, are parents of the groom.

ELAINE was gowned in white tulle and lace as she came down the aisle of Christ church on the arm of her uncle, Stuart Maise. The gown featured a pearl and sequin trimmed portrait neckline and chantilly lace front panel and long sleeves. Down the back of the floor length skirt were fashioned three tiers of taffeta in a petal effect.

A crown of sequins and pearls secured her veil of illusion, and she carried an all white arrangement of stephanotis, roses and carnations, accented by ivy.

AS MATRON of honor for her sister, Mrs. Arthur William Butterfield of Cape Cod, Mass., wore a waltz length gown of coral hued organza, designed with a full skirt and draped bodice. An identical dress, in a shell pink shade, was worn by the bridegroom's sister, Peggy Ann Hampson, as bridesmaid.

Completing their ensembles were headbands of coral carnations and dark red roses, and bouquets of the same type flowers, with ivy.

Mrs. Goodwillie accented her Hyacinth blue chiffon and satin

Michigan Alumnae Of Mills College Meet Here Tonight

Dr. George Heley, chaplain of Mills college, Oakland, Calif., will meet with Mills alumnae of Michigan and their husbands, at 8:30 p.m. today. Guests are expected from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Flint and Lansing.

Hostess for the event will be Mrs. Eugene P. Sims of 70 July lane, Bloomfield township. Mrs. Benjamin Wilson, president of the group, will assist Mrs. Sims.

Dr. Hedley is also professor of sociology and economics at Mills. He is on sabbatical leave this year to do research for a biography of Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, for many years president of Mills.

Among books written by Dr. Heley are "Superstitions of the Ireligionist" and "Minister Behind the Scenes."

New Orleans Presented In Art Showing

The Little Gallery presents New Orleans—superbly captured in a broad showing of its Abstract Art. This form of expression is fast gaining international favor—to a degree never before achieved by any previous school. The loss of regionalism in our art societies and universities has fostered the abstract-artistic movement. And this age of rapid communication has been instrumental too, in the development of this new and highly subjective language.

LEONARD T. FLETCHER is well presented. His intensely individualistic style has won him extensive praise and a position at the New Orleans Academy of Art. His paintings are bold and vibrant, strong and vivid. Stylized figures and design in slashing colors result in a tremendous visual experience.

Morris Henry Hobbs is one of the few fine etchers in the country. His prints display and portray the man. He's primarily an artist, but always an architect and skilled technician.

PAT Trivigno is another major artist in this exhibit. An associate art professor at Tulane University,

Nine Hole Golfers Meet for Coffee

Officers of the Nine hole group at Pine Lake Country club will meet for coffee at the home of Mrs. Glen A. Caldwell, 616 North Glenshire, Bloomfield Village.

Set up similar to the 18 hole group, there are flights for the championship of the nine hole group. Golf is played in the morning with a noon lunch followed by afternoon bridge.

At the 10 o'clock coffee Tuesday, April 9, plans will be discussed for the May 8th breakfast which officially opens the season.

You'll find all-day meters in the new "Park - Ferndale" municipal parking lot.

his abstractions hold deep inner structure, while his impressionistic style and mood is gay and whimsical. This combination offers both excitement and delight, refreshing style and design.

Helmer, Dunbar, Lamantia and Siedenberg are also on display. All are prominent artists.
