Shade Will Prevent Flowering

This has been a glorious garden season and we feel very fortunate when we hear of the parched areas in other parts of the country.

Yes, I have crab grass, too, even after an extensive investment in recommended sprays. The total condition of the lawn is far better than last year due to lots of new lawn seed being spread to give a thick mat and already the lawn has had two heavy fertilizer feedings.

IT WAS PAT Hyland who used to live in Birmingham and had three landscaped lots on South Glenhurst who used to say: "Don't let crab grass bother you, it's green, isn't it?"

You should keep feeding and planting grass seed to cut down the open spots where the annual crab grass will germinate, and then he would hustle off toward his goal of enriching the soil, knowing this was the best answer for combating lawn shortcomings.

Mrs. L. A. Doyle on Buckingham has enjoyed having her magnolia in flower during July. This is a fine plant to select as a specimen for a lawn. Be sure to place it when you plant it where you will receive maximum pleasure from it when it is in full flower. It is better judgment to plant this ornamental in the Spring.

Says the Barrister
You have begun to realize how important boundaries are and how difficult it is to know what and where they are. So many times we take for granted facts that just aren't facts. That sounds a bit odd but it becomes clear when we start talking about boundaries.

There are many principles of law relating to the description of boundaries, the establishment of boundaries by the acts of adjoining property owners, and the establishment of boundaries by judicial proceedings. These principles have been established by legislation and by judgments arrived at in thousands of court decisions on cases involving property disputes.

MANY THINGS enter into decisions on just what and where a boundary is. There is the "boundary description" which must be interpreted in the light of the facts in the minds of the parties. There is the matter of "monuments" which are tangible landmarks established to indicate a boundary.

WHY?

Do We Write Sincerely Yours?

Some Latinists ascribe the origin of "sincerely" to sine "without" and "wax." Something "without wax" was, like honey strained from its wax comb, utterly pure. Other scholars say, in Roman times, wax was used to seal cracks in defective pottery; the pottery then burnished to a high polish could be sold "as good as new." Hence sincere meant whole and perfect, as well as pure. Our closing of letters, however, is not wholly "without wax." Few letters these days are that simple and unpolished. Keeping Current... For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his—and he's starting out on his first journey.

Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on the new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort that Cadillac engineers and stylists have made available to the world's motorists.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this time of the year, we suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value—Cadillac dealers are, at this time, seasonally prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of the new Cadillac of his choice.

All in all, he took advantage of the "golden moment" that so many motorists have been waiting for—an opportunity to enjoy motordom's greatest virtues in combination with motordom's greatest value.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit—and spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac—and the time is now!
