WEEDS
(A Useless or Troublesome Plant)
If Mark Twain were living he probably would say, "The only trouble with weeds is that they are too damned many of them.

Well, these weeds can be sorted out into various categories like grasses, broadleaved, biennials, etc. Special chemical herbicides have been sheeted and ready to kill these weeds (all but the biennials with little or no damage to the adjacent lawn grasses.

We are sorry to inform you, however, that the degree of the results are apt to depend on your equipment and skill and on correct timing rather than on the chemical itself.

Before we go into the technical problems of use and selection of weed killers let us look at a couple of problems:

1. Each can, bottle, bag or box of material has on the exterior the minimum number of words necessary,
   a. Tall when to use it
   b. Tall how to use it
   c. Tall what to use it on
   d. Warn you of dangers
   e. Eliminate the mishaps from any liability in connection with the use of the product.

2. A high use rate is CLEARLY noted on the package. If it says to put 1 tablespoonful in a gallon of water on 20 sq. ft. they MEAN JUST THAT.

Whether you use a pressure sprayer, hose type sprayer, spraying russia or what it is, it is up to you to practice with plain water in order to know just what to do or how fast to put the gallon on the prescribed area.

2. We are ready to go.

Following is a list of materials and their uses and which we carry:

Our recommendations on these products are as follows:

BEST FOR BROADLEAF—WEEB-AGON
BEST FOR POISON IVY—ACP POISON IVY KILLER.

When you read this it will be a good time to go after the weeds—especially crabgrass and other very small sized types of wees. When they are dead they can be raked out, the bare areas prepared and scarified and nature and virtues will do the rest... also the author of this killing piece will have been feeding over weeds of the Martha’s Vineyard.

People need to be needed, they say, not me!
Just forget my name and let me be.
I'm fade to the teeth with charity drives
And Doing Good is giving me hives.

The Locust Fire
As a portrayed of the war in Asia during the latter phase of World War II. English Brown (Boy's Town) is both actor and director.

Through George Lewis, the chief examiner, a story is developed of a young man with a brother, a girl friend and a chance encounter with a mysterious character.

The play is filled with suspense and excitement and is a very interesting character.

WILLIAM HUTCHINS, editor of the Weekender, feels that the production is one of the finest of its kind, the quick action of scenes and the use of sound make the play very entertaining. The play opened last night and has been unceasingly扮演 for so long that the act is displayed. The last scene shows the chief actor and the girl friend in the
