More Efficient, Economic School Districts Needed

The task of getting school districts on a more efficient and financially sound basis is an extremely important one for education in Michigan.

Dr. George Robert S. Fox, director of the University School at the University of Michigan.

Industries of Past and Present Line State's Eastern Shoreline

A traveler leaving Birmingham for a trip up the east coast of Michigan has many beautiful, interesting and historic sights in store for him.

Bay City and Saginaw were the capitals of eastern Michigan's lush lumbering industry of the late 1800s.

TV Stimulates Child's Interest, Says Educator

If your children engage in creative activities, it may well be because they watch television, according to Edward Staheff, associate professor of speech at the University of Michigan, who claims that such activities have had a tremendous impetus from this media.

Forty miles north along US-23 is Alpena which combines the beauty of the wilderness with the industry. Here is a pioneer lumbering quarrying city which once had 20 lumber mills and which still is a bustling city.

WHAT TO DO THEN?

He suggests three alternatives:
1. Small districts may combine with larger districts so the taxing authority and the number of pupils served is large enough to justify a variety of services.
