WHY?

DOWN TO EARTH
 Feed Ground with Liquid Fertilizer

Summer is especially the time to share the interesting sights in the area with "visiting firemen." We are always aware of the fine treat we have to give others when we introduce them to all of the institutions of Cranbrook, and then there is the ride past our handsome high school.

It is good news for hosts that the General Motors Technical Center now has sightseeing trips around the grounds on Mound road every thirty minutes.

place your petunias in the rear garden.
 If the home has plain modern lines you won't use plant material around the entire structure, but will allow the grass line in many locations to end right up to the home foundation.

they have combined coleus varieties and purple ageratum in a pleasing manner, which in this instance provides a good balance of the use of annuals with evergreens.

WHEN A GARDENER uses annuals in front of a structure they have to be very careful to "control their impulses" and not load the permanent selection of evergreens and deciduous plant material with inappropriate "daring little annuals."

If you have a home which is colonial you can use petunias, for the other types of architecture

Do We Have Calling Cards?

Because strangers were deemed to be unwelcome, our ancestors thought it polite and discreet to announce their arrival well in advance of visits. Primitive man placed carved rock outside cave entrance. If it were taken in, so was he. Tribes announced themselves with loud cries a mile outside villages.

Out West, a stranger threw his hat into the ring about a campfire. Southerners sent bound dogs ahead. We offer a calling card—giving the perfect hostess time to send back word she has just left for the dentist's.

 At the crest of the lot, with the lowered parking lot level, plus the evergreen planting, cars are not seen from the highway to spoil the panorama of the total design.

AS A FIVE FOOT slope is necessary as the depressed level is formed, it is held in place by large boulders and at the ground level fine gravel completes the apron next to the pavement. This is a fine combination of textures: the evergreens, boulders, gravel and the dark surface of the parking lot.

Another beauty spot to assist the home gardener with plant choice and design is the J. L. Barbeau home at 3925 Oakland. Their ranch home faces north and
