Bloomfield 4-H Wins Honors At Oakland Fair

Sharon Brodie, president of the Bloomfield 4-H club is the new Oakland county 4-H queen. She received the honor during the Oakland county fair where she also won a blue ribbon for the blue flannel dress she made.

Sharon and her sister, Carol both entered photographic exhibits which were picked for the 4-H state show in Lansing.

Several other members of the Bloomfield club, led by Mrs. M. B. Norland, received recognition. A complete costume dress review pin was awarded to Judy Eastburn, who created a wool dress and accessories.

SARAH SNYDER entered a jacket and skirt made of material which she wove at Cranbrook. On the honor roll in clothing, for dresses which they made, were Linda Henderson and Judy Nimeth.

Mary Ellen McDonald, Diane Barber and Carol Klasse were on the photography honor roll. With members of his local army reserve unit.

Major Sura received his law degree in 1939 from the University of Detroit.

KRISTINE Simonson's brownie exhibit won her an award in first year foods.

Robert Symke's bicycle safety exhibit and Laura Symke's soil conservation exhibit put their names on the honor roll and made them eligible for the state show.

An ayrshire dairy cow entered by Helen Miles was grand champion in its class and reserve grand champion of all breeds.

IN A TRACTOR operating contest where he drove on an obstacle course and showed skill in handling trailers, Paul Norland won third prize.

Sharon Brodie and Ralph Hoxie were on the south Oakland team which beat the north Oakland county team in a quiz-down.

The Bloomfield Hills model business meeting group was chosen to represent Oakland county in the district meeting.

Completes Training With Reserve Unit

Major Theodore J. Sura, 19580 Kivikire, Birmingham completed two weeks of annual summer training Aug. 17 at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. with members of his local army reserve unit.

Major Sura received his law degree in 1939 from the University of Detroit.
