

Tour England, Scotland During 5-Week Vacation

WEST BEVERLY.—The George Camerons of Devonshire with their three children, Ruth, Linda, 6 and Roger, 3, have just returned from a five-week trip to England and Scotland where they visited the parents and the children's great-grandmother at Dearham in the Cumberland lake district. The Camerons sailed from Montreal on the S. S. Carinthia and during the trip the children were very excited at seeing icebergs and to learn that boats not equipped to distill fresh water from salt water sent small boats to tap the icebergs for their water supply.

LEAVING THE children with their grandparents, the Camerons went on their visiting trip to the Admiralty at Cabelery, Surrey, for six days. In London, they visited such famous points of interest as the Tower of London, Houses of Parliament, Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, Ascot Park, Westminster Abbey and, of course, the Madame Tussaud Wax Works. In SCOTLAND, they visited Edinburgh and Lake Windermere, which is just as beautiful as the posts describe it, say the Camerons. They also visited the Castle of Edinburgh at Prestwick and Sir Walter Scott's at Abbotsford. On the return trip they flew back, having dinner in Scotland one night and the next night in Birmingham.
