A Fond Farewell To an Elm Tree

Today, I am sad and feel like crying because the elm tree that used to be in front of my house is no more.

I know you will ask me why I am so upset, but I will tell you why.

This elm tree was a symbol of my childhood.

I used to play under it with my friends and it was always there to protect us.

And even though it has been cut down, I will never forget the memories I made under that tree.

What to Do? Help! I need to know what I should do now that the tree is gone.

I tried planting another one, but it didn't work.

I'm not sure what to do next.

What about compensation? I hear it's a common problem, but I don't know how to get compensation.

I heard that some people might be able to get it, but I'm not sure how.
