WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT
• Cancerphobia
• Cigarette Smoking
• Oriental Flu
Q. Are public cancer educational programs helpful or harmful?
A. You be the judge. In 1955 a prominent American physician made a strong plea for less public talk about cancer. The doctor charged that public cancer education causes "cancerphobia" (unreasonable fear of developing cancer). Later the University of Wisconsin made a survey on public cancer education among cancer patients and members of their families. The vast majority (94 per cent) thought that present cancer education programs had been "just right" or "not enough". When asked, "Do you think that public cancer education helps save lives?" 847 percent answered "yes"—only 15 said "no". From these and other opinions expressed by people who had firsthand knowledge of cancer, it seems that the advocates of turning the spotlight on cancer far outweighed the disadvantages.
Q. Some scientists say that smoking can cause lung cancer—others disagree. What's the score?
A. According to the American Cancer Society, cigarette smoking is a causative factor in human lung cancer. The Scientific Advisory Board to the Tobacco Industry Research Committee says that there is not enough evidence to establish a "simple cause and effect" explanation of the complex problems of lung cancer. One group seems to be trying to convict tobacco; the other to clear it. The question is not one of common law. The accused (tobacco) can not stand as innocent until proved guilty. It must be considered guilty on present evidence, until proved innocent.
Q. Will shots ward off the new-type flu that is now sweeping some countries?
A. A vaccine to prevent Asian (Oriental) influenza is not available at this time but several U. S. vaccine manufacturers are in a ready-to-go position.

TALK ABOUT ECONOMY... FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!
Fords cost less to buy!
No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced of the low price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.
Fords cost less to run!
In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered. This remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars, supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all other cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!
Fords cost less to trade!
Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!
