William G. Andersons Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Anderson, 620 Wallace, Birmingham, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday evening with their nieces and nephews.

The Elmer C. Fremonts and the Perry J. Fremonts and children, Ann and Joe, treated their aunt and uncle to dinner at a downtown restaurant.

A bouquet of yellow carnations were presented to the celebrants by their nieces for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson lived in Birmingham for 20 years coming from Bay City. They moved once since they were married there fifty years ago, July 31, 1907.

YWCA Services Designed to Meet Needs of Mothers

The Young Women's Christian Association, a Torch Drive service, is moving rapidly to meet needs of families in suburban areas.

Four new buildings are being planned for early construction. One of these will be a $250,000 building in South Oakland County, now being served from offices at 517 North Main, Royal Oak.

YWCA work among 3,600 members in South Oakland County serves the communities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township, Huntington Woods, Ferndale, Pleasant Ridge, Hazel Park, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Southfield Township north of Northwestern Highway, Clawson, Troy Township and Berkley.

South Oakland members include 393 in Birmingham, and 17 in Bloomfield Hills. They are among 23,878 YWCA members in the entire Detroit metropolitan area.

Miss Annetta B. Eldridge, Metropolitan executive director, pointed out that the YWCA is not building new facilities. It is people.

The "YW" program, therefore, is aimed at helping people. Employed adults are people, families are people, teen-agers are people, children are people, and volunteers are people.

Miss Eldridge said, are especially designed to meet the needs of young mothers with small children.

"Baby sitters are hard to budget for, and not always available," she said.

"In the communities of South

Oakland and South Macomb counties, we have enthusiastic Ladies' Day Out and YW wives groups, where young mothers may get together and spend the day, inexpensively, enjoying various activities while their pre-school children are cared for in YW-supervised nurseries."

FAMILY PROGRAM, including square dancing, swimming, hayrides, which the entire family can enjoy together, is directed also by the Downriver YWCA.

Y-Teen clubs are active in intermediate and high schools in many of these suburban communities.

Altogether, the YWCA served 36,035 people last year, in clubs, camping, interest groups, special activities for children and teen-agers, employed adults, YWwives, couples and coeds, and families, through services to individuals, and through service to the community. Total attendance at YWCA events and services was 745,728.
