

Stamp Collectors Attend Meeting

WING LAKE — A newly organized stamp-collectors club of school children held its second meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cole of Worthington road, Monday evening.

Cole, a stamp collector, acts as advisor to the group who range in age from 8 to 15 years. He helps them with identifying stamps, water-marking them and in general, just trading and talking stamps.

Members are Douglas Nyquist, Martin Slann, Diane Wenzers, Cynthia Carr, Kim Dobson, Bill Fuller, Lou Reska, Rickety Kerball and Paula Cole. If there are others in the area who are stamp collectors and would like to join, they should contact Cole.

The club meets every two weeks on Monday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in Cole's home.

Chamber Concert

LATHRUP — Dr. and Mrs. Harry Baker of Wiltshire hosted the club at their home on Sunday. Four professional musicians presented a chamber concert for the club's annual Christmas Musicale and tea.

LATHRUP — Cub scout pack LC-1 turned out Nov. 23 for a highly successful visit to the Detroit News and the WWJ-TV studios. Each den had four to eight Cubs and convicts of parents.

Tysets proved excellent souvenirs and weighed down boys filled pockets. Most popular question was, "Where do they print the Funnies?"

During the Dec. 3 pack meeting the change craftsmen and future race-car drivers of Lathrup rose to the top and center as cream on milk. The monthly project was for fathers and sons to shape a block of pine wood into a race car on a kit purchased by the boys. The Pinewood derby was then held and the cars were raced on a ramp designed by Frances Marocco, cub master. Among the skillful winners were William Tuzman, John Lorne and Tom Tuzman.

Hostess for the Christmas meeting of St. Jude's guild will be Mrs. William Soper of Red Leaf lane. New officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting, which will be Dec. 16.
