Santa Claus Theme Used For Birthday Celebration.

Sandra Lippard celebrated her sixth birthday Dec. 7 by having a group of her school and neighborhood friends in for a luncheon.

Those seated around the table on with interest. The little girls brought their favorite dolls along to play home and felt very grown-up wearing their watches received as favors. Sandy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lippard, 870 Brooklawn, Troyton Manor.

Mrs. Tammens used a carousel cake as her table centerpiece which was served later in the afternoon with the ice cream. Each girl was favored with a finger painting set and gayly colored balloons that previously decorated the house.

Louisville, Ky., was the destination recently of Mrs. James C. Adams and 2-year-old son, Jimmie of Brooklawn road, where they visited the maternal and paternal grandparents of Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hale and Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, Sr.

Also visiting was Mrs. Adams' sister, Mrs. William H. Baylis from W. Va. and son, Billie, who were on their way to Ardmore, Okla., to live while her husband serves in the air force as a dentist. The women took advantage of their time together to start their Christmas shopping and visit friends.

Mrs. Baylis and Mrs. Adams visited relatives in Charlestown, W. Va., for a few days before Mrs. Adams and Jimmie boarded the plane to return to Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sengstacken, 1712 Derby, had as a house-guest recently Mrs. Sengstacken's mother, Mrs. Mildred White from Fort Washington, N. Y.

This was Mrs. White's first trip to Michigan, and she enjoyed seeing Northland and many other points of interest but especially appreciated the time she could spend with her grandchildren, Nancy, 8 years old and Bruce, 6 years old.

Highlight of Mrs. White's stay was a family dinner at a local restaurant to celebrate her birthday.

The family of Mrs. Granville Barker of Brooklawn road motored here recently from Norwich, Ohio to spend a few days.

Those visiting were Mrs. Barker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Korb and great grandparents of 2-year-old Robbie and 4-month-old John, Mrs. Elizabeth Koch and Mrs. Jessie Jackson.

The Christmas theme was used recently by Mrs. Robert Friester, 1465 Stanley, when she entertained her monthly bridge group.

Those participating in the Christmas gift exchange were a group from the Troyton Manor area, Mrs. Granville Barker, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. James Adams, Mrs. Thomas Schulte and Mrs. Robert Distler.

Others making up the two tables were Mrs. James May and Mrs. Martin Swift.

Boy scout troop B-25 will have a family skating party as their Christmas treat. The troop has rented Eton park ice skating rink on Sunday evening from 8 to 10 p.m. The scouts enthusiastically greeted the announcement of the skating party.

It is hoped that none of the scout first-aid will be required for parents who accompany the boys on the evening of chills and spills.

A reminder to Troyton Manor residents to light their porch light this evening if they want to be visited by Santa Claus. Santa will be in the neighborhood with favors for all children.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hedgcock and son, Tony, 1884 Witherbee, spent the past weekend at their cabin in Calabash, Mich.

Also on hand for the first ski weekend was daughter Anna and David Roe who are students at Michigan Central college.

Three bachelorettes in the Graefield Terraces entertained some of their friends at a Chinese dinner. Hostesses Iona Baldwin, Lois O'Hara and Eva Stone seated their guests around a table centered with a Chinese Buddha. Carrying out the theme, fortune cookies were served which the girls made themselves.

Guests included Les Desimpe, John Hryszak, Charley Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Decker, Josh Howe, George Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garipay.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Sabin, 2287 Pymbrooke, were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when few of their friends arrived bearing gifts and refreshments for a housewarming party.

The group consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. (See CELEBRATION, Page 4-C)
