'Pioneers in Progress'

The National Association of the American Association of University Women has selected 17 women who they consider to be the outstanding women in the annals of American history for their contributions to our cultural heritage, insofar as education is concerned. The Dec. 11 luncheon meeting of the Birmingham branch at the Community House saw the pageant, "Pioneers in Progress", written by Betty Bridgman, dramatizing the achievements of these 17 women. The pageant, originally presented at the National convention in Boston last June, starred members from the local branch and was directed by Mrs. H. J. Thomson. The players stepped from the pages of history in costumes of the period in which they lived. Presentation of the program and background material was by Mrs. W. G. Patton. The narrators were Mrs. W. Jackson and Mrs. Jack Berro. In the cast were Elizabeth Bailey, Dorothy Becker, Mary Lou Marsh, Helen Eckenrode, Marion Patterson Alene Gruber, Josephine Blair, Virginia Dickson, Jane Beariens, Aimee May, Doris Mosher, Elizabeth Sneed, Mabel Kohr, Dorothy McWood, Reta Simons, Irma Giffels and Augusta Weir. The production staff consisted of Gertrude Thomson, director; Ada Green, Margaret Remondino and Polly Ginman, costumes; Maja Schjolin, makeup; Carol Green and Mary Brown, lighting.
