Maurice Dodges Entertain Friends at Holiday Brunch

Sundays at the Maurice Dodges of Meadowlane drive have been busy ones. They started their Christmas entertaining at a "brunch" for neighbors of Hickory Heights on Dec. 1. A second party took place Dec. 8.

On Dec. 14 cocktails were served before everyone gathered around the refreshment Christmas table. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mass, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coon.

The Charles Bethels entertained in their Meadowlane drive home at a buffet supper Saturday evening. Guests were from Hickory Heights and included the John Evans, the Maurice Dodges and the Edward Becks.

The Mark Hagerman family of Butternut Hill drive and other relatives are gathering at the First home of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. MacArthur. Mrs. Hagerman's parents, for a Christmas day reunion. Her sister's family, the Frederick Van Dunes and daughter, Kimberly, will be motoring from New York for the happy occasion.

The Paul Landers of Yorktown court are celebrating New Year's eve at a dinner party at Hillcrest country club. Joining them for dinner and an evening of dancing and fun will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shehak, Dr. and Mrs. K. C. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vinal, Mr. and Mrs. Van Peck and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas McGraw.

Friends of the John Hights of Meadowlane court will gather at their home for a New Year's eve buffet supper after attending services at the Victory Lutheran church in Detroit. Guests will be the Clarence Buschagans, the Earl Goffs and the Clare Nelsons.

A Christmas bazaar was carried out by the cub scouts of pack B-34 at Harlan school, Dec. 9. Each den displayed and sold things they had made at den meetings during the past month. Raising money for a needy family was the goal set by the cubs.

Forty dollars was made. Canned goods were also brought to fill boxes for the needy family. Games were played at the close of the evening.

On Dec. 28 there will be a "Dad and Lad" outing at the Ivory Farms north of Pontiac. A hay-ride and hot dog roast is planned for this event.

The new troop of boy scouts had its first meeting in the multi-purpose room of Harlan school Dec. 18. James Pateet, sixth grade teacher, was named troop scoutmaster. Boys from 11 to 13 are eligible to join.

Tentative plans call for meetings every Monday night except the second Monday of the month, when cubs meet.

The boy scout committee includes Ken Brooker, chairman, Gene Quackenbush, Paul Graham, Glick Barbosa and Chuck Bethel.

Some families found they were making two trips to Eastover school Dec. 15.

In the afternoon was a "Caroling program" with parents and children taking part in the Christmas song fest around the Christmas tree in the multi-purpose room. Under the tree were four children dressed as kittens and as the school children marched by they handed a gail' wrapped gift to one of the kittens.

These gifts were later picked up by the Salvation Army to be distributed among under-privileged children. Everyone enjoyed the Christmas music played by the school band.

At the Christmas cub scout pack B-4 meeting each den displayed their Christmas makings.

Ornaments and bells along with Christmas corsages for their mothers were displayed by den 1. Den
