

Suburban Scene

with old and new friends . . . and at the same time partake in the successful of social season.

Among those planning to dance to the music of Mack Pitts orchestra . . . with reservations already made . . . are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lowery, the Robert Eddys, the Harry Days and the James Cotters. To start off the evening, friends will be dropping in for cocktails at the new Marlhead drive home of the William R. Shaws. Preceding the festive New Year celebration, Mrs. Shaw plans to entertain for the younger set on the 27th.

Let's Have a Ball

Hands on the pocket watch swinging on a chain are set for one minute until twelve, bells are chiming, champagne glasses bubbling . . . merry makers and hats . . . and streamers flowing through the picture . . . all these comprise the invitation calling Forest Lake Country club members to the New Year's eve party.

Let's have a ball and dance 'til the . . . wee hours of course . . . to Fred Crises and his orchestra. The party is formal . . . that is black ties for the men.

Cocktail hour with hors d'oeuvre from 7 to 8 p.m. will be on the house . . . tasty and lavish buffet from 8 to 10:30 p.m. with a French pastry table . . . and coffee about 2 a.m. . . . for the road.

At Oakland Hills Country Club

Ingenuous thinking went into the creating of the novel invitations ringing in the new year at Oakland Hills Country club. On a black background is a couple in formal attire. The characters are in outline . . . showing is the gentleman's top hat, cigarette, white vest and tie . . . and for the lady . . . her head, earrings, lips and beads.

They'll dance the old year out and the new one in to the music of Jack Quaiety's six-piece orchestra.

And Bloomfield Hills, Too!

It will be formal and fun . . . according to Mr. Penguin in his black coat . . . as he sends his message to Bloomfield Hills Country club members to come to the New Year's Eve dance.

Dancing will be to the Fenby-Carr orchestra with an added note by the singing school teacher.

Sunday Symphony

Alan Hovhannes, composer-conductor will be featured with the Detroit symphony orchestra Sunday at 3:30 p.m., in the Ford auditorium conducting his symphony "Mysterious Mountain." The series is sponsored by the Junior League of Birmingham and Detroit, the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony.

Moved to New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Marker and family will be in their new home for the holidays. They have moved to 4161 West Orchard Hill drive, Birmingham.

BIRTHS

A son, Arthur Paul, was born December 7 to DR. AND MRS. CHARLES PAUL BARKER of Lott Pine road, Bloomfield Hills. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Warren G. Ferguson.

Senior at Bradford

Barbara M. Bernhard, a senior at Bradford junior college, Bradford, Mass., is at home for the Christmas vacation. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bernhard of Suffolk road. Barbara is a member of the Bradford home committee.

MRS. JOHN M. EVERTS

Christmas Eve Vows Exchanged in New York

At a ceremony Christmas Eve, attended by more than 200 guests in the First Baptist church in Fredonia, N. Y., Gwendolyn Elaine Smith became the bride of John Melville Everts. She was given in marriage by her Godfather, Dr. O. L. Smith.

Gwendolyn is the daughter of Mrs. Stuart M. Smith of Red Maple lane, Birmingham, and the late Mr. Smith. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Everts of Fredonia, N. Y.

THE BRIDE WORE A GOWN fashioned of pure silk taffeta featuring a scooped neckline outlined with alencon lace, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt fashioned with matching lace applique down front panel.

A small seed pearl crown secured her four tier veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis with an orchid in the center with trailing ivy.

Jill Smith was maid of honor and Mrs. Gordon A. Mutch was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of light green peau de soie with white feathered headbands.

Junior bridesmaids were Mary Maurine Smith and Carol Jane Weidig. They wore green velvet ballerin length gowns and carried red poinsettias with trailing ivy.

DR. CHARLES M. EVERTS, Stuart's father, was the groom's father. Guests were the groom's father.

'Old Timers' Get Together

Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, one of the youth-training services made possible by the Torch Drive, recently made an appeal for "old timers" in the movement to make themselves known.

Mrs. Warren B. Cooksey, former president and current chairman of a special committee, explained that "old timers" are women who, either as girl members or as adult leaders, served with the girl scouts between the years 1916 and 1930.

"Old Timers" are asked to get in touch with girl scout headquarters or with Mrs. Theodore W. Layle of 12801 Santa Clara. Mrs. Layle is in charge of a dinner at St. John's Episcopal church, Woodward and Montclair on Jan. 12, 1958.

Mrs. Cooksey's committee is gathering material for a book on the history of the council. The dinner is being held to get together the girl scouts of from 25 to 40 years ago. From them the committee hopes to obtain facts and anecdotes for the book.

Smith Tea Today For Undergraduates

Smith undergraduates and high school prospectives are to meet at a tea at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Winston on Goodhue road.

Smith club of Birmingham is giving the tea for present undergraduates and it is open to anyone in the area high schools in the 10, 11 and 12th grades.

Colored slides will be shown at 2 p.m. with a panel discussion of college life by the undergraduates.
