

Time to Evaluate Your Landscaping

Gift plants have a role to play this time of year to add the plus factor to our hospitality and interior decoration. Christmas plants in pots are favorites.

Many people call me to give me this question: "May I have my beautiful chrysanthemum plant after it flowers and place it outdoors in the garden to enjoy in the Fall?"

As a garden hobbyist, be satisfied with growing fine flowering plants of mums for garden appreciation and only select those which are specified as early flowering due to our early frosts.

As a recipient of a gift pot of Mrs. Burlingame mums enjoy them to the utmost and when they have finished being in prime condition don't try to carry them over for another season.

CHRISTMAS CACTUS is beginning to flower in the homes of proud owners especially if they have kept them in a room without electricity at night. They, too, will come into flower when they have the proper hours of night-darkness.

If you have a plant which has been in a room with a light, move the plant into a room without a light at night and you will be able to see buds for late winter enjoyment.

If rabbits have already begun to be interested in your choice new shrubs and trees paint the trunk with a mixture of 1 1/2 pounds of lump resin dissolved in 1 quart of denatured ethyl alcohol. Cover and let it stand over night, before using, being sure the resin is in small lumps. You can store this mixture and use it indefinitely.

THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR when you evaluate your home landscaping that you realize that often you need more evergreens to "hold down" and give weight to the pattern of the plant border and winter interest.

If you have a view which you want to hide or an area where you need a large evergreen to give you privacy, think of using a pine tree.

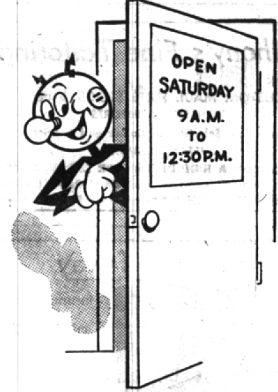

As you become acquainted with pine trees you will always know this category of evergreen because the needles will have two or more joined together in a sheath at the base which is attached to the branch.

The Austrian Pine is fast growing when young, is easily adaptable to soils and mores without complications. This is a choice for a quick effect. It will grow to be around forty feet and will be 15 feet in diameter, so plan accordingly.

A SECOND CHOICE could be a White Pine. The needles are as silky to the touch as a silk tassel. It will grow rapidly, move easily, and will have the same mature size as an Austrian Pine.

It will make a stunning hedge and for this purpose should be planted 3 feet apart. Both of these mentioned pines like full sun for the best performance.
