FRANKLIN A — wrapped gift for someone at the Marlic home, a dollar for a Christmas charity and a two-bit gift for the grab bag will be brought by members of St. Anne's guild attending the noon Christmas luncheon Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Edwin Casenhiser, 32845 Whitley.

Crash Victims Off Critical List

BLOOMFIELD—Two victims of a car-truck accident Nov. 29 still are in Pontiac general hospital but are off the critical list. Mrs. Elizabeth L. Elliott, 36, of Mount Morris, is in good condition, and her daughter, Patty Schweyger, 14, is reported in fair condition. They were injured when their car struck a truck which had run out of gas on Gulf drive in the northern part of the township. Mrs. Elliott's physician, Dr. Vernon C. Abbott, says that although she received severe internal injuries she still is pregnant. She is expecting in March.

Franklin Plans Skating Rinks

FRANKLIN — Despite erratic temperatures that prevail, the promise of winter has inspired teams of fathers and sons to labor last Saturday afternoon, preparing an area for community ice skating.

Approximately 50 reported with rakes and shovels to smooth off a recently graded surface back of the Franklin Community church. Roughly 100 feet square and banked at the sides, the rink will be flooded by the Franklin Volunteer fire ladders as soon as a steady freeze sets in.

In the summer, this same area serves as a baseball diamond for Little League baseball.

OVER A PERIOD of years, there have been several attempts to provide public skating facilities in various locations around the village through the effort of a few enterprising individuals.

Saturday, however, a telephone committee contacted a large percentage of residents to contribute their muscles and time as a civic project. If response is adequate, a second rink may be added nearby which will then provide a separate rink for hockey games.

Chairmen Named By Association

FRANKLIN — Appointment of chairmen for standing committees of the Franklin Community association has been completed. Orland Ellis, president, announced last week.

Ernest Hoisington is chairman of the membership committee; Philip VanDyke, house committee; Gordon McAlpine, program; Chester Hard, publicity and Richard Barnard, youth activities.

Under a revamped format, the new chairmen are assigned to a specific member of the board of directors and will be encouraged to select his own committee.

Franklin Social Briefs

Barbara McCall Seaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Seaver of Wellington road took a busman's holiday over Thanksgiving. Barbara closed her ballet and danced and spent the weekend in Chicago where she took a few lessons herself from Stone Country in ballet, and the Arthur Murray studio for ballroom.

Chicago was also the scene of a reunion for the Robert Treadway family from Franklin Court. The family visited Mrs. Treadway's parents and were joined by son, Bob, who is a freshman at Cornell.

Saturday night, the Jerome Nybergers of N. Cromwell entertained some of their neighbors at a post-Thanksgiving potluck supper.

Craig Ellis celebrated his seventh birthday Saturday by hosting eleven young friends for luncheon at his home on N. Cromwell and a matinee.

Thanksgiving day really occurred on Saturday for the Frank Taylors of Wellington road.

Father Taylor returned home after nearly a month of convalescing at Beaumont hospital and his presence eclipsed turkey and the like for his two delighted daughters, Marilyn and Carolyn.

The Roy Trouteaus made their home on Inkster headquarters for nostalgia Friday when they hosted former neighbors in Huntington Woods. Among the reminiscing guests were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wedlick of Muncie, Ind., who enjoyed the reunion with old friends they had not seen for seven years.

While the adults chose to revive memories gathered in sharing 17 years of living on the same street, the teenagers planned their own fun and assorted small fry began establishing new friendships.

The Webb Lees of Hersheyvale enjoyed a rare treat with son, Dick, free of school band duty, no same, they were able to spend Thanksgiving at their cottage on Grand Lake near Alpena and did a little duck hunting.

Beth Jones was hostess to 30 teenagers Saturday when she held a "welcome to Franklin" party for Diane Hines at her home on 13 Mile road.

Golfing in North Carolina was pretty good for the Kenneth Waggoners of Charles lane who have returned from a late vacation with vivid descriptions of some of their link experiences.

With Christmas fair-time approaching, Dec. 7 at the Franklin Community church, Mrs. C. J. Seaver has things pretty well wrapped up as will have with cards and wrappings which she will be selling there.

Not enough has been said about the Christmas decoration booth which will be the dazzling spot of the Fair. Mrs. Robert Swift, chairman, says.

Christmas Music Is Program Theme

FRANKLIN — Members of the Franklin garden club will meet the evening of Dec. 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baugh, 345 Hawthorne, Birmingham, to hear a program of Christmas organ music.

The hostess, as well as members in the group, will play selections appropriate to the season. Members are also requested to bring Christmas table arrangements for an exchange of ideas and discussion.

Village Players Attend 'Desk Set'

FRANKLIN—On a kind of reconnaissance mission, members of the Franklin Village Players' board of directors and their spouses saw the final performance of "Desk Set" presented last weekend by the Plymouth Players.

The play was given close scrutiny by the Jack Roberts, the Bob Hampsons, the Sam Bates, the Nick Rosillos, the Phil Van Dykes, the Don Ollies, Mrs. Edward Green and the John Bakers before it's ultimate selection as a spring offering in Franklin.

Christmas Tea

FRANKLIN — Members of the Franklin branch of the WNFCA will meet at the home of Mrs. R. J. Rowse on Normandy lane for a Christmas tea, Dec. 9, from 1 to 3 p.m. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Roy Nelson and Mrs. Gerald Wright.

Hold Home Owners Meeting Dec. 9

SOUTHFIELD—The next meeting of the Southfield home owners association will be held Dec. 9 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Emery, 24627 Maryland, Southfield township.

Home owners in the area bounded on the east by Greenfield, on the south by Mount Vernon, on the north by Filmore and on the west by Rutland are eligible to attend the meeting.
