

Many Area Residents Travel To Winter Recreation Spots

Many North Adams residents are escaping the snow and ice by traveling south, while others are traveling north looking forward to colder weather. Enjoying winter sports at Caberfae last weekend were the John Wrights, Jr. of Evansville road. Accompanying them were their children, David, Rick and Laurie. The Wrights are spending the week of Feb. 16 at Otsego. Friends from Southfield and Niles, Mich., will join them for the week. There will be skiing, skating and more skiing.

Home again after a three week vacation to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., are the Bernard Jacobsons and son, Randy, of Hoibrooke. Traveling with them were the Robert Richards, Jr. of Pleasant Ridge, relatives of Mrs. Jacobson. Having in the sun and playing in the surf were on the daytime agenda, while the evenings were spent at the many intriguing restaurants in and around Fort Lauderdale. One of the highlights of the trip was four days of night viewing at Daytona Beach, where they attended the stock car races.

Other travelers are the Frederick Olivers of Hickory Heights drive, having recently returned from a flying trip to New York. While there, they attended the television show, "I've got a secret," a visit to Radio City Music Hall and to the Metropolitan Opera House. They are planning on another trip to New York the end of March with their daughter, Elizabeth, a student at Michigan State, will also accompany them.

The E. William Gerhards, Jr. of Haddington and the Charles Gerhards of Bloomfield Hills had a buffet supper Feb. 10 at the Gerhard home, honoring the birthday of their father, Mr. Elmer Gerhard, Sr., of North Woodward. Mrs. Gerhard, Sr., attended along with 10 guests from Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

A net acquainted coffee was hosted last Thursday afternoon at the North Evansdale home of Mrs. John Wright, Jr. The 20 guests attending were newcomers to the Charing Cross Highlands.

The John Paines are newcomers to South Evansdale drive, formerly of Detroit. They have a married daughter, Mrs. John Crawford, living in Birmingham with her family. Mr. Paine is an engineer with the Mercury division of Ford Motor.

The Paul Metzlers are new residents to Charing Cross road and are from Birmingham. Mr. Metz-
