The following students at BHHS have maintained an average of more A's than B's for the past first semester. Seniors are Gordon Clark, Alvin Jones, Sue Kennedy, Art Plaxton and John Risk. Juniors are Judy Angeline, Marnie Bay, Elizabeth Johnson, Ellen Martz, Janet Morrison, Laurie Pinkerton and Nancy Smith. Sophomores having this high honor are Diane Alimon, Lucille Barnes, Phileore Drummond, Laurel Kimbrough, Howard Kutchal, Dick Lundy, John Markley, Tom Odle, Shirley Smith and Barb van Dyk. Freshmen are Beverly Ral-four, Jean Tomman, Julie DeVlieg, Jans Durham, Sue Fry, Jim Gerhard, Bruce Geyman, Mary Jocelyn, Nancy Knight, Deanna Laughlin, Nancy Little, Amy Miller, Sharon Newman, Rene Sinclair, Nancy Trowbridge and Mike Zweig.

Bloomfield was represented recently at the instrumental solo and ensemble festival at Ypsilanti by two junior and two senior groups. The junior brass quartet, with a III rating, is Dan Gutherie, Randy Smith, Don Wineman and John Beaver. Our junior mixed clarinet trio consists of Jeanne Hice, Steve Woolson and Joe Oros. They had a fine I rating.

Art Haxton, a senior, did a trombone solo and got a II for it. The cornet trio, Ron, Bob and Ray Stacey, came home with I rating in the senior division.

There are approximately 32,800,000 students enrolled in the nation's public elementary and secondary schools, according to the U. S. Office of Education.

Cranbrook Corridor

By KEN CAMERON

Brotherhood Week is being observed at Cranbrook this week. Monday morning Bruce McCall and the Church Cabinet presented a movie short on the necessity of brotherhood. Tuesday Dr. B. F. Landuyt told the students of the great economic need to erase imaginary lines, the lines of discrimination. Dr. Landuyt is the head of the department of economics at University of Detroit.

Wednesday was Bob Allis day at Cranbrook. Bob, an alumnus of Cranbrook, was noted for his hazardous dress during his stay at Cranbrook. Since his graduation, one day has always been set aside for boys to try to match Bob's attire.

Today, David Muirhead, first secretary of the British embassy in Washington, is visiting Cranbrook. Mr. Muirhead is a graduate of Cranbrook's school of England, and this morning told us about England's Cranbrook. He later toured the school and will undoubtedly inform his alma mater about the American version of Cranbrook.

Stop Climbing Stairs

Yes, Ride the Stairs . . .

This is the INCLINATOR, the unique, electrically operated "stair lift," operating from the house-lighting circuit. Folds against the wall when not in use. Absolutely safe and easy to operate. Phone or write office for further information and estimate.

Kingswood Column

By CAROLINE CROSS

So that incoming school officers may have a better opportunity of becoming acquainted with their respective offices before actually undertaking them in the fall, Kingswood has begun nominations for next year's school officials.

The first to be elected were next year's new dormitory council members: sophomore Jan Vary, and juniors Diane Hamady and Anne Vanderzant. The tea was attended by the freshman classes of both Kingswood and Cranbrook.

The social side of Kingswood life was brightened by the freshman class tea held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hooy, of Cranbrook. The tea was attended by the freshman classes of both Kingswood and Cranbrook.

In a report received by city commissioners Monday night, Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said parking meter revenues totaled $12,223 during a January week surveyed, compared to $1,093 during an October week. Moxley blamed a seasonal lull and an increase in long-term parking meters, which showed the greatest revenue decrease. He said public acceptance of city parking lot #2, at Ferndale and Hamilton, had been "rather limited."
