

Village PTA Will Present One-Act Play

"The Case of the Missing Handshake," directed by Treasa Way Merrill, will be presented by the Bloomfield Village PTA at 8 p.m., Monday, March 4. The PTA's first play, it is an American Theater Wing Community play written by Nora Stirling of the Mental Health Materials Center.

The one-act play has five characters and is put on without the use of properties except for a card table and four chairs, a telephone and a radio.

Sarah and Frank, the mother and father, will be played by Mrs. Howard Thomson, 520 Ardmore drive, and Carter Bowen, 3570 Roland drive, both of Bloomfield Village. They are normal happy parents, but bewildered by the indolent behavior of daughter, Valerie. Mrs. Thompson's daughter, Joyce, plays the role of the daughter.

Mrs. B. A. Koether, 3485 Broadway, Bloomfield Village, is to be the camp leader — a "miss" in her late thirties. The only other character is the stage manager, Mrs. D. Pierson Smith, 720 Hupp Cross, Bloomfield Village.

THEY HAVE ROLES in Bloomfield Village PTA's presentation of "The Missing Handshake" . . . the PTA's first try at a play. Put on without properties, (from left) Mrs. Howard Thomson pretends to be having coffee, with Mrs. B. A. Koether, the camp leader, and Joyce Thomson, the unpredictable daughter.

MRS. G. G. HUITT Soroptimist Executive To Talk Here

Gertrude G. Huitt, the first international president of Soroptimist International Association, and prominent attorney in East St. Louis, Ill., will address Soroptimist International of Birmingham tonight at Devon Gables. Representatives from eleven other Michigan clubs will be guests. About 150 women are planning to attend. While in Birmingham, Mrs. Huitt, whose husband is William Roy Huitt, secretary of the St. Louis live stock exchange, will visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. P. Brueschke of Shipman boulevard.

IN 1948, Mrs. Huitt traveled extensively in Europe, visiting many Soroptimist clubs, bringing back first-hand information regarding conditions on the continent, as well as knowledge of conditions faced by European Soroptimist club.

Since that time she has made four trips overseas, recently visiting all 29 countries in the Near East. Motion pictures of places she has seen in her travels will highlight her appearance before the local club. She'll talk about "Women I Have Met as an International President."

MRS. HELEN REYE is chairman for the dinner event which is to begin at 7 p.m. Toastmaster will be Helen Larkin.

Showing of Films Set for BBW Meet

Birmingham Business Women's club will hold its social meeting March 7, and the regular business meeting on March 21, at the Community House.

On March 7, Ruth M. Kelley, of Detroit, who has made travel, collecting fine arts and photography her hobby, will show some of the motion pictures she has taken in countries all over the world. By special request from members who have seen some of her pictures, her showing will include close-up sequences of an erupting volcano, and a complete sequence of the Changing of the Guard as a part of her English pictures.
