Square Dance Planned Feb. 15 By Baldwin PTA

Baldwin school gym, scene of many a dance when Baldwin was Birmingham's high school, will resound once more to the sound of music when Baldwin PTA holds its first square dance the night of Feb. 15.

Coupled with the dance will be a "Country Auction." Price of admission is one dollar which can be auctioned off. Auction proceeds will pay for the dance.

Caller will be Don Parry, well known to local square dance enthusiasts, who is an expert at getting the neophyte square dancer off on the right foot.

The orchestra will be the PTA's own combination, with Merritt Olsen and Charles Jones on the fiddles, I. C. Schaefer at the piano and Arthur Lougee on the lounge.

This is the first purely social event in the five years of Baldwin PTA, and every committee is working diligently to make it a success.

Mary's first savings account

"I'm going to open my very own savings account there," five-year-old Mary Jeanne Opferman told her parents when she saw the new North Woodward office of Standard Federal Savings going up near her home.

Then the "big day" came—for Mary Jeanne and for Standard Federal. With her gaily-striped snow cap, snugly warm mittens and tot-size purse full of money, she tramped through the early morning snow and cold on opening day to our new office at 1406 North Woodward in Royal Oak.

Her bright little face—so proud and happy—barely could be seen above the counter, and her mittened hand had to reach "real high" to spill her savings on the counter. Mary Jeanne had started her savings account all by herself.

Mary Jeanne's account wasn't the largest opened that day in terms of dollars, but it meant a lot to Mary Jeanne—and to Standard Federal. This was a big beginning for both of us!
