

Bloomfield Hills Billboard

By Barbara VAN DYK

A rousing basketball game between a few faculty members and the BHS "All Stars" team, made up of boys who don't play on the regular basketball squad, receded into the background.

Teachers participating were: Mr. Lloyd Eberly, Coach Don Huff, Mr. Harold Fritz, Mr. Don Dennis, Mr. Hobart Doerr, Mr. William Drummond, Miss Jean Silerlet (girls' physical education teacher), Mr. Edwin Murray and Joseph McMillan.

Varsity club boys who were defeated in a close game included Doug Pfaff, Carl G. Smith, Ed Minnick, Gary Metz, C. Chad White, Harlan Davis, Tom Little, Jay Miller, Larry Donaldson and Chuck Farr.

Alpha of Phi Sigma Tau sponsored a bake sale Friday after school. Many students were found buying the food money prepared under the direction of Nancy Smith, president, and Mrs. Virginia Condon, faculty sponsor.

Senior graduation announcements are now being ordered, with one style selected from three as a standard for the whole class.

Other graduation preparations last week included taking measurements for the traditional caps and gowns, and for the girls and boys for the boys.

Detroit representatives of a knitting mill took orders this week for the standard white letter sweaters for both girls and boys. Directions for adjustments for letter insignia, signifying various sports awards and stripes to be added were also taken.

The GAA volleyball tournament was completed last Thursday. Victorious members of Captain Elizabeth Johnson's team will get ten points toward their G.A.A. award at the end of the year.

Scholarships Offered to Boys by Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich.—Cranbrook school for boys is now offering scholarships to boarding and day students from all over the country, headmaster Harry D. Hoy has announced.

The grants are open to applicants who are eligible for entrance into the seventh through eleventh grades and who meet the following requirements: above average academic record, proven need for financial assistance, and recommendations as school citizens and leaders.

All applications must be filed by March 15. Complete details may be secured by writing to Headmaster, Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

Awards will be made up to $1500 for boarding students, and up to $700 for day students. There are no full scholarships given, but many of the grants cover 1/2 of the total board and tuition cost. Under the present program, scholarships may be renewed until graduation.

BHS Print Shop, Journalists Ready 80-Page Report

Another record breaking job for the Journalism and print shop classes was completed last week, as 80-page book detailing the report of the personnel planning committee.

Approximately 250 books were produced within four days. All printing was done by the print shop students on the offset press with journalism classes assembling the finished product.

Copies of the report will go to members of the board of education, planning committee, and other citizens of Birmingham.

SOUTHFIELD HI NOTES

Alas and alack, all those beautiful smiles gone for naught! More than 170 teachers and students at Southfield high who had their pictures taken last week with defective film had to report back to the photographer again this week for another sitting and another smile. It wasn't so much the loss of the pictures counselor Letha Palmer regretted, but the failure to get beautiful scheduling log. Everything ran so smoothly last week, it almost went smoothly, but this week teachers and students were in different places and finding subjects for the photographer turned into an exasperating task.

Finishing up the first semester, Southfield will close at noon Jan. 24. Second semester will begin Monday morning, Jan. 28. Report cards will be issued Jan. 30.

Jan. 31 will find seniors being fitted for caps and gowns at 2 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Students making application for Honor assembly awards must have their requests in by the end of the first semester. Honor assembly will be held Feb. 13, and cover only a half year's work. In the future, academic awards will be given for a full year's work, dating from February to February.

Applications may be placed at another Southfield high school office at this time. This summer course is given for the benefit of students not attending schools where the course is offered. Under Michigan law, no teenager between 16 and 18 may be issued a driving license unless he has successfully completed the course.

"Love is Eternal" will be the Southfield spring play. Tryouts will be held Jan. 28, 29 and 30 for the 14 male and 16 female roles in the play. Scheduled for production on April 12, 13 it is the story of Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd Lincoln, and concerns his early political life and life in Washington.

Robert Sprout of the class of '56 was a visitor in Southfield recently. Robert received a scholarship to Case Institute of technology in Cleveland, Ohio and came back to tell the seniors about Case and his studies there.

Southfield debaters were hosts to the Interlakes debate conference recently. Five debates were scheduled, followed by discussion of debate technique by Marvin Eash.

Music teacher Vincent Kuchendorf is singing a happy song about the new note in his family, a girl, Sandra Lewis, born Jan. 4.

19 Area Students Named in Contest For Scholarships

Among 7500 high school seniors who have won positions as finalists in the 1957 National Merit Scholarship competition are 19 students from Birmingham area high schools.

The finalists were among 162,000 seniors competing in the nationwide college aptitude examination given Oct. 24.

At stake are more than 700 four-year college scholarships, many of them sponsored by business and industry.

NAMED FROM Birmingham high school are Harry Altick, 1018 Kennesaw; Gail Christie, 761 Southfield; Fred Finkenauer, 1220 N. Glenhurst; Stephen Hunter, 627 Pilgrim; David Karns, 7350 Chula Vista lane; Peter Loomis, 1648 Dorchester; Marcella Michaels, 5 Woodbury drive; Graeme Miller, 30788 Everett; Royal Oak; Sidney Oldberg, 702 Puritan; Judith Shafer, 22575 Labster, and Franklin Wilson, 28510 Scenic drive.

Finalists from Southfield high school are Gerry Cort, 19021 San Diego, Laketrup Village, and Ted Hoffman, 28081, Telegraph; Brant Woods; Walter Bagdade, of Farmington; and Bruce McCall, of Lone Pine Hill, Bloomfield Hills.

From Bloomfield Hills high school, Willard B. Stauffer, of 1539

United Nations Ass'n at BHS Slates a 'Flip'

"Pancake Flip" is the name chosen for the supper to be put on by Birmingham high school United Nations association Feb. 12. Pancakes and syrup will be supplied to the 210 BYNA members by the Pillsbury Company, and members will come dressed to represent their country in the organization.

Foreign exchange students from this area will give short talks on their countries' policies in the United Nations.

General chairman for the supper is Carol Decker. Committee chairmen are Carol Bain and Mary Slater, food; Nancy Savage and Ruthann Huffman, cooks and cafeteria; Barb Bond and Cathy Garrett, invitations; Art Chanter, serving; Judy Austin, tickets; Sandy Bennett, Jean Spencer and Nancy Jenkins, place cards; Alison Woodhouse, Judy Gray and Sue Booker, cleanup.

Dateline: Derby By Les Carter

Tomorrow night the second social event of the school year, the "Moonlight Dance," will be held. Unlike the first dance at Halloween, this will be held in the newly opened Derby gymnasium. Seventh, eighth, and ninth graders will attend.

Musical entertainment will be provided by a small orchestra instead of records. Tickets are still on sale for tomorrow's event, slated from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The "Moonlight Dance" is sponsored and planned by the Derby Student Council.

Last Monday Derby's gymnasium officially opened its doors to student activities. The long-awaited structure, although not completely finished, is now in condition for "light" use.

BHS Radio Speech Students Using New Studios

Completed just in time for after-holiday classes were the new radio speech studios at Birmingham high school.

The space was first a part of the art room, but was later changed to a study hall when more room was needed for an enrollment of 1800.

With a few major changes it has now become a classroom, a large studio, a small studio, and a control room. Ceiling was lowered to eliminate noises. All walls are made of translucent board and some is parallel, so that echoes are prevented.

The dedication of the studio is set for some time in February, under direction of Mrs. Monelle Clark.
