Junior Symphony In Process Of Organizing

The Junior Symphony will be conducted by Henry Nosen, for many years assistant concertmaster on the NBC Symphony orchestra, under the late Arturo Toscanini and now conductor of the South Oakland Symphony orchestra.

Dorothy Ann Walsh Wed To H. C. L. Jackson, Jr.

Gowned in white Duchess silk taffeta, Dorothy Ann Walsh became the bride of Harold C. L. Jackson, Jr., Saturday at the Shrine of the Little Flower. The Rev. Robert Kilroyne read the nuptial rites at 1 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Walsh of Hamlet road, Royal Oak. Her husband is the son of Mrs. H. C. L. Jackson of Grosse Ile and the late H. C. L. Jackson. For the past two and a half years, Harold shared a bachelor house at 647 Woodland, Birmingham, with two of his sisters.

DOROTHY'S bridal gown was molded to a point below the hips in the back and graceful folds of the full skirt fell into a cathedral train. The décolletage was scalloped from the shoulder and edged in chantilly lace. A small cap pointed at the forehead and edged in matching chantilly lace held in place her double illusion fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of white lilies and ivy.

Her only attendants were Mrs. John W. Gabriels, matron of honor, and Mrs. Richard J. Deisler, bridesmaid.

They wore matching dresses of emerald green taffeta over frilly petticoats and hoops in afternoon length. A low rounded neckline fashioned the front and two floating panels accented the back. They had matching green satin shoes and short white gloves. They carried cascades of rufum lilies, with deep purple centers.

DANIEL D. Jackson of Cleveland, Ohio, was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were James M. Power and Brawn C. Sprout, both of Grosse Ile, Wakefield P. Curry and George B. Calk-

Paying our way in Oakland County

New schools, new roads and other new developments spell progress in hundreds of Southeastern Michigan cities and towns. One way Detroit Edison helps in this progress of your community is through taxes.

For 1956, our local, state and federal taxes are expected to total $37,500,000. More than 350 villages, cities and townships in Southeastern Michigan will benefit by about $18,500,000.

Over $7,000,000 of this amount will go to support local school districts alone.

The American system of business brings the highest standard of living and greatest development to our communities. By paying taxes, by being good citizens, Detroit Edison is a working partner in helping Southeastern Michigan grow and prosper.

A TYPICAL TRANSACTION IN OAKLAND COUNTY AT THIS TIME OF YEAR
Walter A. Giddings (left), Pontiac City Treasurer, receives tax check from Anthony G. Maszhofer, Editor Director of Taxes. This is part of the $1,565,000 in taxes Detroit Edison pays in Oakland County. Looking on is Howard L. Confield, Edison Oakland District Manager.
