KATHRYN MOYNIHAN

MRS. GARTH M. STANTON

Garth M. Stanton's Honeymoon in Cuba

Wearing a bridal gown of white silk brocade, Marion Katherine Tricomo walked down the aisle of Holy Name church Saturday morning to become the bride of Garth Michael Stanton.

Rev. Edmund Schwager read the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Tricomo of Detroit, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Stanton of 1075 Oxford drive, Birmingham.

STYLED on princess lines with long sleeves, Marion's gown featured fold on fold of the silk brocade gathered to form three puffs at the back of the skirt, terminating in a court train.

Her fingertip veil cascaded from a matching, pearl trimmed shell headpiece. Garulous and stephanotis were combined for her bouquet.

As honor maid for her sister, Joann Tricomo was crowned in a red chiffon street length creation designed with a draped scooped neckline and flared skirt. Her hat and shoes were in a matching hue and she carried white carnations accented by red ribbon. Indebtly dressed, but carrying a white carnations with white ribbon, were the bridesmaids, Arlene Vandemergele of Detroit, Cheryl Kraus of Royal Oak and Caroline Schaefer of Lincoln Park.

RED PEAU de soie fashioned the frock worn by flower girl Anita Tricomo of Rossville. It was styled with a lace-trimmed pilgrim collar and flare skirt accented by a big bow at the back.

Norman A. Stanton was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Russell Manney, Arthur Kowalski and Ian Somerville, all of Detroit.

Mrs. Tricomo chose white accessories and a corsage of camellias

MRS. JACK C. KALBFLEISCH

Marlene Lawson Wed In Methodist Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conrad Kalbfleisch are making their home at 622 Bloomfield court, following their marriage Saturday afternoon at First Methodist church. Rev. Allen Witttrup performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride is the former Marlene Adele Lawson, daughter of Mrs. Aley Lawson of 715 Ann street, Birmingham, and William Lawson of Fernside Jack's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Kalbfleisch of Sault Ste. Marie.

MARLENE'S white wedding gown was designed with a lace bodice featuring a sabrina neckline and long sleeves. Lace appliques accented the hipline of the gown's bouffant ballerina length skirt of net floor satin.

A crown of seed pearls secured the bride's fingertip veil and she carried a white Bible topped by an apple.

Bouquets of pink carnations were carried by Mrs. Stewart Kempf, youngest son of father for her sister, and Linda Demter, bridesmaid.

Their dresses were fashioned of tulle taffeta and velvet and were complemented by seed pearl trimmed red velvet headpieces.

NORMAN Phost of Royal Oak was best man. Ushers were William Lawson and Harold Collins of Birmingham, Stewart Kempf of Commerce Lake and Gordon Baker of Berkeley.

For the wedding and reception which followed at the Metropolitan club in Berkeley, Mrs. Lawson selected a large dressmaker suit trimmed in white satin. Her hat was in beige satin and her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Kalbfleisch pinned red roses to her white sequin-trimmed black crepe dress, complemented by a black satin hat.
