

Daniels-Leviska Rites Read at Christ Church

Lois Margaret Leviska and Thomas Presby Daniels pledged their marriage vows Saturday evening before Rev. Robert L. DeWitt. The rites were solemnized in Christ Church Cranbrook in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wayne Alfred Leviska of Detroit and the late Mr. Leviska. Mrs. Lewis Ernest Daniels of Rydleigh Farm, Southfield township, is the mother of the groom. His father was the late Dr. Daniels.

GIVEN IN marriage by her brother, Wayne, Lois was gowned in a white silk taffeta creation. The long sleeved bodice featured a yoke of alencon lace frosted in pearls and opalescent paillettes. Insets of the jeweled lace were also used at the hipline of the full skirt line and pleated skirt accented by a draped back panel. Her hat was in a matching hue and white carnations with pink ribbons composed her bouquet.

Floral arrangements of pale pink carnations with white ribbons were carried by the bridesmaids, Ella Jarvenpaa and Louise Rutlo of Detroit. Their dresses were identical to the honor matron's.

Flower girl Constance Reiff, niece of the groom, complemented her pale pink organza frock with a pink daisy bonnet and miniature bouquet of pink rosebuds.

WILLIAM Chapin Baell of Detroit, was best man and guests were seated by Charles Gibson of Detroit, Ferdinand Reiff of Jack-

Woman's Club To Hear Lecture On Eastern Lore

Arsha Louise Bedrosian of Evanston, Ill., has been booked by Birmingham Woman's club for its meeting Tuesday at 1 p.m. at Baldwin Library. An interpreter of Oriental life, she'll appear in authentic Far Eastern costume. Born in Turkey, Mrs. Bedrosian is the daughter of an Armenian Minister. She was a resident student at the American Woman's college in Istanbul, utilizing her summer vacations as an ambulance driver for the International Red Cross.

Mrs. Bedrosian later came to America and continued her education at Columbia university where she began to lecture. Mrs. Irving E. Oakes is in charge of the afternoon tea.
