Adjourn Alley Hearing to August 19

A six-week adjournment was made this week in a public hearing on a proposed alley to serve businesses in the block at the southeast corner of Maple and Bates. Birmingham city commission took the action at the request of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, represented at the meeting by their son, James, an ex-mayor and commissioner of Birmingham.

Allen said his family's repossession of two lots in that block would not be complete until July 22. Then their house had defaulted in its payment on the first anniversary. Repossession then was instituted, Allen said.

HE EXPLAINED that a corporation, which more than a year ago had purchased the property for lease to the B. Siegel Co. for a local store, had defaulted in its payment on the first anniversary. Repossession then was instituted, Allen said.

He admitted a firm offer has been made for the south half of the property.

If the alley bisected a single property, the damages would be much heavier than if it were in two separate ownerships.
