Fall, Winter Recreation Schedule Full

When their work is over and it's time for play, Birmingham residents should find plenty of things to do this fall and winter. According to schedules made up by the city's recreation department, three new activities will be added.

New items scheduled are family swimming one night a week at each of the city's two new indoor pools, basketball leagues at the high school and the new Derby junior high school, and archery at Elton park.

Birmingham Recreation Director said plans for next spring are to sponsor a marble tournament on the playgrounds and parks, and a horseshoe league at city parks.

FAMILY SWIMMING will be available Monday nights at Birmingham high school and Thursday nights at Derby pool from November through April. An adult entry fee of 75 cents is proposed.

Facilities for archery, being constructed at Elton park by the city Forestry and Parks department, are expected to be ready by fall, Girardin said. The free activity is planned for daylight hours.

Additional winter activities planned by the recreation department include: Maintenance of natural ice rinks at Quenton school, St. James, Pembroke and Poppleton parks, when weather permits. Day and evening skating would be free.

THERAPEUTIC SWIMMING at Derby pool, free of charge. Continuation of senior men's weekly gatherings at the Community House.

Ten weeks of hockey leagues at Elton park rink, Saturday and Sunday mornings. Entrance fee per team is $25.

A ten-week hockey clinic, from 4 to 6 p.m. Mondays, at 25 cents per person.

FIFTEEN WEEKS of skating at Ram ice rink, at 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. Adult 35,000 admissions were tabulated at the rink.

Adult recreation Monday nights at Birmingham high school gymnasium and Thursday nights at Derby, at 50 cents per person.

Thirteen weeks of elementary basketball Saturday mornings in school gymnasium, at no charge.

"Santa calling," for two weeks prior to Christmas. Last year there were 1191 calls to the North Pole from Birmingham.

Maple Avenue Maples Moving

A POWER shovel loads part of a Maple avenue tree onto a haulway truck as Forestry and Parks department Bill Sutton surveys the deep pit dug to free its roots. It took five hours to extricate the huge tree. Forestry and Parks Foreman Harvey Rauch said much of the digging had to be done by hand to avoid possibility of cutting a main telephone cable running below ground. Severing the cable would cut off hundreds of telephones. Once the 50 silver maples are removed, the two-block stretch of Maple will be closed to traffic. Contractors will begin tearing out the section of old pavement between Hunter and Adams in preparation for widening the street.

CAP Cadets Ready To Host British Exchange Group

Next Wednesday between 25 and 30 cadets from the British equivalent of the Civil Air Patrol, the Air Training Corps and the Combined Cadet Corps, will arrive at Selfridge Field in Mt. Clemens.

They will be met by their host group, Birmingham's Group III, who are planning a gala round of events to keep their guests busy and to give them a "behind the scenes" view of the American way of life.

This is the third group of British cadets to visit Birmingham, the preceding two groups here in 1933 and 1935. Other groups entertained here include the Portuguese, Chilean, Alaskan, Netherlands, and Cuban cadet groups. All groups are accompanied by adult members of the organization or regular air force.

'Ozark' Division Reunion July 25

Local members of the 102nd "Ozark" infantry division won't have far to go to attend their ninth annual reunion, which will be held at the Detroit Statler hotel July 25-28.

The reunion will culminate in a dinner-dance on Saturday, July 27 at which time the "Queen of the Ozarks" will be crowned. Fred Netting's band will play for the dance and floor show.

The Mullers have four children, Henry, Jr., Lois, Carol, and Marcia.

Hole in Awning, Don't Know Why

Firemen don't know how it happened, but Daniel Piers, 987 Madison, has a hole in his awning. The Birmingham fire department responded to an alarm about 7:40 p.m. last Friday and found a 20-inch hole burned in the awning at the address.

They couldn't pinpoint the cause, Chief Park H. Smith reports, but he theorized a cigarette might have been accidentally tossed on the awning, igniting it.

Holdup Suspect Stands Mute

TROY — William Whisman, 22, of Madison Heights, stood mute Monday when arraigned on charges of armed robbery of Popovich's grocery at 18 Mile and Rochester roads April 9.

Two other men, Dwayne Youngblood and William Wash, both 20, have already been sentenced to Jackson prison on the same count. Youngblood was captured at the scene of the holdup and he implicated Wash. The two named Whisman as the third man.

Whisman was returned from Seattle, Wash., by Troy Patrolman Eugene Sackner and Hazel Park Patrolman Jack Miller last week. Justice Charles H. Losey, who arraigned Whisman Monday set bond at $3,500. Whisman, unable to meet bond, is being held in Oakland county jail until his examination by Losey July 22.
