Spend Four Days At Saugatuck, Visit Sand Dunes

WING LAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pokorny and Mrs. and Mrs. Bill Leikes, both of Wing Lake road, returned Sunday night from a gay four days at Saugatuck.

Saugatuck, located on the shore of Lake Michigan in the heart of the sand dunes, afforded them a combination of relaxation and thrills and excitement.

It was fun climbing and romping in the dunes and spending their sunny days on the beach, but the biggest thrill came when they took a thrill-ride in one of the dune-scooters. These are special-built cars with extra large tires and hold six people.

THE DRIVER zooms the car up and down the dunes at high speed and with dips and curves that would make a roller-coaster seem to stand still.

Mrs. Stone Attends Piano Workshop

Mrs. Marion B. Stone, 6048 S. Snowshoe Circle, is receiving advanced instruction in piano-teaching techniques and materials at the second annual piano teachers workshop at Michigan State university this week.

More than 50 piano instructors from Michigan and surrounding states are participating in this Kellogg Center event, sponsored by the M.S.U. department of music.

Daily sessions are under the direction of Myrtle Merrill, of the department of music, and George Anson, guest lecturer from Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, Tex.

The workshop, which ends Friday, is primarily for teachers of music students in the intermediate grades.

Wing Lake Social Briefs

WING LAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Darby Worman and children Pat and Jeff will move to Adrian tomorrow. With somewhat heavy hearts, they will leave their Wing Lake road home and all the good friends they've made here.

Worman is sales manager for Briggs and Brass and has been in Adrian for the past year, commuting to his home on weekends. They will find temporary quarters while their new home is being built.

WING LAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Wing Lake road recently celebrated his second birthday at a family party. Young Michael thought the Mickey Mouse cake was almost as black as black.

Barbara is attending summer school at Rochester university in New York. She will return to Cornell university for her junior year in the fall.

GILBERT LAKE — Michael John McGovern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip McGovern of Maple road, recently celebrated his second birthday at a family party. Young Michael thought the Mickey Mouse cake was almost as black as black.

Bill and Gary are pals and members of Troop B-17, Kirk-in-the-Hills. Both are attending Charles Howell Boy Scout Reservation camp near Brighton.

In addition to many outdoor fun activities, Bill is working on his Eagle scout rank merit badges and bird study, while Gary is preoccupied with his first scout camp advancement.

Both boys will return from camp July 27.

Leave Water-Logged Foxcroft, Find Chicago Same Way

FOXCROFT — Our recent violent storm and deluge of water apparently wasn't enough for the E. E. Stanfords of Woodland Park. On Friday evening they left to motor to Chicago with Stanford's cousin, Edward Stanford, who is visiting here from England.

They practically floated into the city Saturday morning and found the windy city's storm had turned it into a mighty watery and foggy place to be.

They intended to show Edward the sights, but couldn't see much through the fog. A visit to the Stockyard Inn was a success and at least they have that to remember.
