

MRS. ROGER CHARLES SULLIVAN

Newlyweds Travel To the Adirondacks

Bonnie Lou McNaughton and Roger Charles Sullivan exchanged wedding vows at 2 p.m. Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook with Rev. Robert DeWitt officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Archie Lee McNaughton of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ballantyne of Country Club drive, Bloomfield Hills, are parents of the groom.

Bonnie chose a floor length gown with a full hoop. The bodice was of white Chantilly lace over silk with lace appliques on the net overskirt. Her Juliet cap of lace trimmed in pearls was complimented by a fingertip illusion veil. She wore white net mitts with appliques of lace and carried a white leather prayer book and cascading flowers. She also wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

MRS. Carol Cooper of Detroit was maid of honor. Her dress which was of yellow dotted white sheer nylon over yellow taffeta with a wide banded neckline of yellow taffeta extending to a bow in the back with floating streamers. Matching mits of sheer nylon and pale yellow sheer picture hats completed the costumes. Carol carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white daisies with bachelor buttons and cascading ivy.

Bridesmaids, Nancy Kay Beers and Les Mae Marsh, of Birmingham, and Gayle Lopez, of Coldwater, wore frocks identical to the honor attendants and carried crescent shaped bouquets of yellow daisies with bachelor buttons and ivy.

Patricia Osbo of Clarkston, junior bridesmaid, wore white dotted nylon over yellow taffeta. Her bouquet was a miniature of the bridesmaids.

BEST man was John Marquis Ballantyne of Country Club drive, Bloomfield Hills. Thomas Lee McNaughton of Clarkston, Ronald William Ballantyne of Birmingham, and Jerry Lee Surface of Highland Park were ushers.

Mrs. McNaughton wore an azure blue pants de sole sheath with matching accessories and pink callamias. Mother of the groom chose a blossom pink silk sheath with dyed to match lace with which she wore matching accessories and light green orchids.

After a garden reception at the farm of the bride's parents, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to the Adirondacks.

For the trip the bride chose a two piece suit with blouse jacket of imported white-on-white design in cotton. Her accessories were navy blue, and she wore a corsage of rubrum lilies.

GRETCHEN ANN VAN DIRSTEN

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Van Dirsten of Rutherford, Detroit, announced the engagement of their daughter, Gretchen Ann, to E. Patrick Fox, son of Mr. Dawn Fox of Grand Rapids and Mr. Jos. Fox of East Tawas.

The bride-elect is a second grade teacher at the Pembroke school in Birmingham.

The wedding date has been set for August 17.

Twenty-Eight Guests Attend 50th Wedding Celebration

The Kenneth Martens entertained 28 guests at dinner last Saturday evening at their Lenox road home, honoring Mr. Marten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Martens, on their 50th wedding anniversary. It was a happy occasion for the William Martens with all their children and grandchildren around them.

Sprays of yellow carnations were throughout the house. An attractive centerpiece of yellow carnations surrounded the three-layer wedding cake on the dinner table.

Those present were the E. J. Martens family of Detroit, and the Harvey Martens family of Argos, Ind., sons of the William Martens. Also present were a brother and his family, the Charles Martens of Chicago, and the C. E. Leepers of Detroit. Mrs. Kenneth Marten's parents.

The William Martens are newcomers to Detroit, after many years in Chicago.

Home again after 16 glorious days in the Pocono mountains of Pennsylvania are the Hugh Whites of Charring Cross road. Accompanying them on the vacation were their daughter and son-in-law, the Yeriya Beardless of Dearborn.

They stayed at the Buckhill Falls inn, a picturesque lodge nestled in 6000 acres of wild and wooded country. They played golf each day and in the evening enjoyed the planned entertainment at the lodge. They also looked forward to the many lectures who gave talks on the Chippewa Indians and book reviews.

The John Wrights, Jr., and sons, Rick, 12, and David, 10, of N. Evansdale drive are anxiously waiting for the middle of July when they will leave by train for their grandparents' ranch near Seattle, Wash.

Last summer the whole family spent a month on the ranch with their grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Fleming. Rick and David's vacation will last until school begins in September.

Entertaining with a steak roast on their summer porch and patio were the Paul Johnstons of Bolingbroke drive, the evening of June 25. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gepp, visiting here from Oakland, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gepp of Rochester, Mich.

The Thomas Clayton hosted a cocktail party at their Orchard Hill drive home Saturday evening, June 22. The party was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clayton, who are visiting here from Berkeley, Calif.

Among the guests from North Adams were the Matland Combs, the Henry Whittings, the Robert Warrells and the Mrs. Wilsons. From Bloomfield Village came the Robert Heaphys, the Glen Greens, and the Charles Wilsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tivy of Anslow lane, Charwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tivy of Oakhill drive, Thornwood, co-hosted a garden party Sunday afternoon, June 23, in honor of their niece, Judy Chapman of Grosse Pointe, who was graduated from Grosse Pointe high school. Twenty-five guests were present to extend their best wishes.

Jim Yates, son of the Alan Yates of Bolingbroke drive, celebrated his 10th birthday Wednesday afternoon, June 26, with a splash party at the Salt Water pool on Rochester road. The nine boys joining in the swim were Larry and Chuck Morse, John and Skip McCurdy, John Smith, Betsy Kloor, Bill Beddows and John Yates. Mrs. Charles Morse assisted Mrs. Yates in keeping track of the group.

Carol Nelson, 7-year-old daughter of the Carl Nelsons of Hickory Heights drive, celebrated her birthday the evening of July 25 at a family dinner.

BERNADINE MARIE SINK

Fall Nuptials Is Planned

At a dinner party June 29, at their home on Remfrew road, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Sink announced the engagement of their daughter, Bernadine Marie, to John Gilbert Lassaline, son of Mrs. Wilfred J. Lassaline and the late Dr. Lassaline of Fairfield road.

Bernadine was graduated from the Shrine of the Little Flower high school and attended the University of Arizona. Her fiancé is a graduate of Catholic Central high school and he attended the University of Detroit.

A September 14 wedding has been planned.
