

Rasch-Goode Wedding Solemnized Saturday

Wearing a wedding gown created of white chantilly lace and tulle, Mary Elizabeth Goode walked down the aisle of St. Hugo-of-the-Hills church Saturday noon to become the bride of Arthur Stephen Rasch.

Styled with Peter Pan collar, long sleeves, and full skirt terminating in a chapel train, the gown was complemented by a veil of illusion cascading from a headpiece of lace and pearls. To complete the bridal picture, Mary carried a prayer book, lace handkerchief trimmed in pearls, and a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

REV. FRANCIS STACK performed the double-ring rites witnessed by 150 guests and the couple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ames Goode of Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Rasch of Lansing.

Maid of honor, Patricia Flaherty of Bloomfield Hills, carried pink carnations with her white pearl de sois ballerina length dress, fashioned with a pink cummerbund ending in a double bustle and back panel. A circular veil trimmed her pink hat.

The bridesmaids, Sara Jane Trythall of Orchard Lake, Barbara Romains of Elmwood Park, Ill., and Mrs. John N. Dreystadt of San

GUESTS were ushered by William Reeves, John Kirchgessner and Fred Sheldon, all of Grand Rapids. Edward Jackobice of Grand Rapids was best man.

For her son's wedding day, Mrs. Rasch selected a dress of ice blue chiffon over taffeta, accented by a pink flowered hat. Mrs. Goode chose a pale rose colored hat to match her silk organza and lace dress. They pinned gardenia corsages to their purses.

After a reception in Oakland Hills country club, Mary and Arthur left on a motor trip to Quebec and Montreal. Her going away costume was a light toned, colored suit of raw silk, with a straw hat and purse.

The young couple will make their home in Lansing.
