

423 Enrolled In Art Workshops

Monday Detroit Institute of Arts extension services centers in Birmingham and Livonia opened. Enrollments are now closed for the summer series. First grade through high school youngsters are attending the workshop at Bloomfield Art association, Birmingham.

The Detroit Institute of Arts is the only museum in the country offering such services to suburban areas. This new program of the Founders Society has been made possible through initial funds contributed by the J. L. Hudson Company, the Michigan Consolidated Gas company and the National Bank of Detroit.

MAN IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT

When you buy your car in the North Woodward area, don't stop with just the right car and the right deal . . . go all the way: Have your car salesman call our nearest office for a loan that's seven ways better. In Birmingham, in Ferndale, in Southfield, there's an office of The Detroit Bank & Trust Company that will really put you in the driver's seat with low, low bank rates.

TRUST and ESTATE PROBLEMS? An experienced trust officer is now available during regular banking hours on Friday and other times convenient to you at our downtown Birmingham office, Woodward and Hamilton. He will be pleased to discuss your estate plans with you and your attorney.
